Marino outfits athletes

When most folks celebrate a birthday or any other type of anniversary they usually are on the receiving end of gifts. But that is not the case with Dom Marino, owner of the Colony Chrysler dealership at Lilley and Ann Arbor Roads.

Dom, a native of the Pennsylvania coal mining country, who found his niche in the automobile business more that two decades ago, is celebrating his ninth anniversary at his present location in an unusual way.

Spurred on by his own experience as a young athlete in the hard coal country where uniforms were a rarity, he is making a gift of 4,500 T-shirts to the boys in the Police Athletic League in Plymouth and surrounding areas.

"And I am outfitting a girls's league in Livonia," he said, "that will be under the watchful eye of Chief Turner."

In his youth, Dom attended college at Clarion State College and he proudly says he was a halfback on a pretty good team.

"And I had a brother who played football, at Notre Dame in the 1960's." He revealed he came from an athletic minded family.

Dom freely admits that the gift of the "T" shirts is part of an advertising program but he looks upon it more as an inducement to the youngsters in the Plymouth area.

"These shirts will be considered a uniform by many of the youngsters and may help inspire them on to greater things than playing on the community lots."

As he spoke, he had visions of the days when he played on the rocky play fields of the coal country where uniforms were just a dream.

But the youngsters of his day were mindful of the fact Stanley Raymond (Buddy) Harris, one time manager of the Detroit Tigers and rated as one of the best second basemen of all time came from the coal country.

While celebrating his ninth year at the "Colony Corner", Dom proudly points to the many plaques on his office wall and and admits that his company has won the distinguished service dealership award for the past seven years.

"This is wonderful," he says, but giving these youngsters T-shirts and seeing the gleam in their eyes makes everything worth while."

Medved earns sales award

Richard Medved, a salesman at Stark Hickey West, Inc., a Ford dealership in Detroit, recently was presented the Ford Division grand master sales counselors plaque for his sales achievements in 1975. William E. Hazzard, the division's Detroit district general field manager, made the award. Thirteen salesmen in the Detroit district were recognized as grand master sales counselors for 1975 successes. Nationally, 227 received the award. Medved has been with the dealership for four years. This is the third time he has been honored for his sales achievements.
