Seville Elegante

The 1980 Cadillac Seville Elegante uses a diesel engine as standard. All Sevilles with the new six-liter, digital electronic fuel injection engine team with an "MPG Sentinel." The MPG Sentinel gives you instantaneous miles per gallon readouts continually. To get your average fuel economy for a trip, the driver can press button that casuses the average mileage to be displayed for six seconds.

Bad habits reappear

Gas shortage seen for coming summer

The motoring public, barely again accustomed to ready availability of gasoline, should be aware that energy-watchers are making dire predictions about shortages next summer.

Officials from government, the oil companies and independent researchers share the pessimism, citing statements by oil-exportiong countries that they will reduce shipments next year.

The Automotive Information Council in Southfield therefore advises drivers to revert to the gas-saving driving practies they adopted during the crunch but have since abandoned.

To help drivers do this, the council offers a free pamphlet that provides 30 fuel-saving tips. Single copies can be obtained by sending a stamped self addressed envelope to Automotive Information Council, P.O. Box 273, Southfield 48037. Bulk copies are available at a price of $4 per hundred. This includes postage.

The council said that if drivers follow the tips provided, the predicted shortage will not interfere with our freedom of mobility. Common-sense driving will permit the build-up of reserves.

Some of the tips offered in the folder include:

For every fives miles per hour over 50 you drive, there is a loss of one mile per gallon.

Don't stomp on the accelerator when the signal turns to green. Sudden surges of power take a big gulp of gas. Sudden stops don't do your gasoline expenses any favor either. Try coasting to a halt.

Plan multi-stop local trips. A car doesn't reach operate at maximum efficiency until the oil, differential grease, engine, transmission, wheel bearings, tires and other components get warmed up.

Avoid prolonged idling. Your car gets zero miles per gallon while idling. Just 30 seconds consumes as much gasoline as it takes to start the car.

The folder also illustrates how lack of proper maintenance can pull down the miles-per-gallon average.
