Mazda has anniversary edition RX-7 sports car

The rotary-powered Mazda RX-7 sports car, one year old this month, is now available in a limited-production anniversary model called the Limited Edition.

Only 3,000 have been built. They go on sale this month at 725 Mazda dealers throughout the country.

The suggested retail price of $9,945 includes "beat-black" metallic paint — the only black finish offered on a Mazda in the U.S. Also standard are 5-speed manual transmission, air conditioning, sun roof, AM M stereo radio with cassette tape player and four speakers, special aluminum wheels, 185/70-13 steel-belted radial-ply tires with raised white lettering, red and white pin stripes, and several interior comfort and decor features.

Like its stablemates, the S and GS models, the Limited Edition is powered by a two-rotor rotary engine that develops 100 horsepower. EPA fuel economy estimates are 28 miles per gallon on the highway and 17 mpg in the city, for a combined rating of 21.

"We designed the RX-7 to be a high-performance, economical, affordable sports car," said Tsutomu Murai, executive vice president of Toyo Kogyo Co., Ltd., the Japanese manufacturer of Mazda. "Even the extra-cost Limited Edition, with all its many performance and luxury items, is still priced below the standard models of many other sports cars. For the automotive connoisseur, the RX-7 Limited Edition is, we think, the best value on the market."

A local Mazda dealership has changed hands. Packer Mazda has been purchased by Porterfield Wilson, and the dealership name has been changed to Porterfield Wilson Mazda. The dealership is located at 18500 Livernois.

Under the new owner, the dealership will continue to offer full service for Mazdas.
