When it comes to saving the 505 Turbodiesel on gas, it's all relative. EPA estimates 28 mpg in city, 36 mpg on the highway. Pretty good, we think. But the fuel economy capability of the gasoline version is even better. EPA estimates 30 mpg in the city and 43 mpg on the highway. Whether you're the Peugeot 505 Turbodiesel or a Peugeot gasoline model, you'll get comfort and much ease of ownership. You'll get a great deal of satisfaction between yourself and the friendly service staff.
PEUGEOT 505 TURBODIESEL

*EPA estimates for comparison purposes. The mileage you get may vary with how you drive, weather, speed and weather. The actual mileage will probably be less.
