BIRDS FOUGHT FOR RIGHT OF PRIORITY

Yellowtone park ravens and magpies evidently never heard of Elisha; at any rate they certainly have no fear of bears.

Ranger Thad Pound was making his rounds a short time ago, when he noticed a great commotion among a flock of ravens and magpies. Upon investigation he found that the center of the disturbance was a very much distressed she bear with a pair of cubs which were receiving the mauling of their lives from the bigs' beaks. The cubs were rolled over on their backs, trying to defend themselves with their paws, while the mother was hard put to it to shield her lustily bawling offspring.

The occasion of the battle was the carcass of a winter-killed elk, on which the birds had evidently been feasting. Interrupted by the bears, they had resented the intrusion and turned to do battle with the uninvited guests.—Kansas City Star's Science Service.

EQUIPPED FOR THAT BRANCH OF SERVICE

After a six weeks' intensive campaign, Richard Bartholmess and his fellow-players in "The Patent Leather Kid" company were honorably discharged from the United States army at Camp Lewis, Washington.

While at Camp Lewis some of the finest battle scenes were screened. More than 3,000 United States regulars and 600 civilians participated in the war spectacle, which is featured by the 50 huge United States tanks.

During the shooting an extra came up to Richard and announced he'd like to enlist in the tanks.

"Why so keen about the tanks?" asked Dick.

"Oh," replied the applicant modestly, "I'm a pretty good swimmer."—Film Fun.

College Men Win Honors

The Nation's Business says that in spite of the fact that less than 1 per cent of American men are college graduates, this 1 per cent has furnished 55 per cent of our Presidents, 36 per cent of our members of congress, 47 per cent of the speakers of the house, 51 per cent of the Vice Presidents, 62 per cent of the secretaries of state, 70 per cent of the secretaries of the treasury, 76 per cent of the attorneys general, and 60 per cent of the justices of the Supreme court.

Sand Used as Defense

The expression "Throwing sand in their eyes," is said to have had its origin in southern Siberia, where the tribes depend for safety largely on the deepness of their horses. The land is very sandy and the method of repulsing an opponent was by means of a handful of sand tossed at him, which at least, if the aim was good, of at least temporary bewilderment and blindness.
