Wake up your life in bed. The standard deep mattress is your bed. But the quality of sleep and energy has a profound effect on the other two-thirds of your life. It's the generator that produces endless hours of activity and waste of energy.

Author Jeff Ray Porter Bellows, a neuropsychiatric researcher in sleep disorders, says: "Sleep is your most time. There are two factors that determine the quality of sleep: the amount of uninterrupted sleep and the amount of time spent in the deepest, most restorative sleep stages."
