Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. McIntosh

Kathleen Barbara Knighton and Paul Martin McIntosh were married Dec. 19 at Our Lady of Refuge Church. Parents of the couple are Charles L. Knighton of Bloomfield Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Edward McIntosh, Jr. of Farmington. The bride wore an off-white lace gown with a floor length veil. She is a teacher in the Bloomfield Hills School District. Her husband is an underwriter loan officer with the Citizens Mortgage Corporation. Following a wedding trip to Nassau Bahamas the couple is at home in Birmingham.

Kimberly Fleck

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Kimberly of Southfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathy Jo, to William Brown Fleck, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Fleck of Farmington Hills. Miss Kimberly will graduate from Southfield High School in June and plans to attend Oakland Community College. Her fiancé is the owner of Forever Green Landscaping in Farmington Hills. No date has been set for the wedding.

Fritsche-Gaiser

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berge Fritsche of Niles announce the engagement of their daughter, Paul Elizabeth, to Carl L. Gaiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Gaiser, 3633 18th Howard Court, Farmington. The bride-elect is a graduate of Niles High School and received her B.S. degree from Michigan State University where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She is employed by Clark Equipment Co. in the corporate personnel department. Her fiancé is a graduate of Cherry Hill High School in Inkster and received a B.S. degree from Central Michigan University where he was affiliated with Theta Chi fraternity. He served the U.S. Army in Vietnam and is now employed with M.L. Herr's Building Company in Farmington. A May wedding is planned in Niles.

Textured protein products explained

Do you eat hamburger patties that don't taste like a hamburger? Do you eat a familiar hot sandwich? These are products that are made with plant protein. The Food and Drug Administration has a pamphlet that explains just what textured vegetable protein is, and describes the tasks made from it. For a copy of Textured Vegetable Protein Products, send 40 cents to Consumer Information Center, Dept. AT, Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20204.

When food products contain many protein sources, the total protein in them becomes more varied and more complete. This is the case for many products. Soy products have been used in a variety of ways. They can be used in soups, stews, and casseroles. They can also be used in breads, pastas, and other products. They can be used in a variety of ways. They can be used in soups, stews, and casseroles. Growing perennials

Have you gotten a case of spring fever yet? Some early cases have been reported and one remedy for this predictable seasonal disease is to begin planning now for your spring flowers. The U.S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet to help you plan your garden of flowering perennials. For a copy of Growing Perennials, send 30 cents to Consumer Information Center, Dept. AT, Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20204.

The booklet includes the following: You'll need to choose the time to plant carefully. Seeds won't germinate until the soil warms and if they're sown too early they may rot. But early spring growth is important for the survival of many perennials. Preparing the soil is extremely important to perennials. Annuals can grow and flower in poorly prepared soil, but perennials seldom survive more than one year if the soil isn't properly prepared. Properly prepared soil will have good drainage, protection from drying winds and adequate water in the summer. Choose the perennials that are best for your particular area. Where your grass will be in your neighbor's garden, consult nursery owners. Check with a state extension station and check the ones you like best. The booklet includes advice on watering, mulching, fertilizing, and our system with photographs to show you how to start your work in June.
