O&E Tournament winners declared

It took a week, but the results are in.

Jim Hedges' victory in the Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows mens golf tournament was confirmed Sunday, when none of the handful of golfers rained out Sept. 18 could match or beat his 146 total. The Birmingham resident's win earned him the first-prize $200 gift certificate.

John Smith of Plymouth and John Van Vleck of Farmington Hills, who lost to Hedges in a playoff, split the second- and third-place prizes, each getting $125 gift certificates. The low-net victor was Brian Gulick (76-72/148 with a five handicap for a 138 net).

Championships were decided in first and second flight on Sunday, however. Livonia's Jeff Truax claimed the first-flight title with a 75-80/155 total, edging Jim Matthews, also of Livonia, by a single stroke (77-79/156). Truax claimed the $175 top prize, with Matthews getting $130 for second.

THE LOW NET winner was Steve Parker of Rochester (79-80/159, 13 handicap, 133 net). His gift certificate was for $100.

Champion in the second flight was Dennis Drabicki of Livonia, who shot 77-79/156 to claim the $120 gift certificate. Tim Kennedy finished second (79-86/165). Low net champ was Westland's Donald Conrad (84-85/169, 18 handicap, 133 net); his winnings totaled $65.

Third-flight championships were decided before the rains came Sunday afternoon (Sept. 18), delaying the tournament's conclusion by a week. The winner was Jim Rozek of Plymouth, whose 87-100/187 earned him a $60 gift certificate. Alan Joblin of West Bloomfield was second (98-90/188), getting a $30 certificate.

Livonia's James Taylor won the low-net prize of $20 (98-96/194, 27 handicap, 141 net).
