LANSING CORPORATION IS FIRST TO SECURE LICENSE

Lansing Mich., Oct. 7.—The Abrahms Aerial Survey Corp. of Lansing, was the first company to secure a state airplane license under the 1931 acts requiring registration of planes. Art Davis, Michigan speed and stunt pilot, secured license number 5.

Although the new act became effective September 18, but 10 planes and three manufactures have secured registrations and the state department of aeronautics has been notified. The 1931 act says all Michigan-owned planes and out state commercial planes cannot be flown in Michigan without paying a registration and weight tax.

Needles very often become sticky after sewing with them for a while. If the needle is run through the hair it becomes smooth and easy to sew with in a second. But care is taken not to pull the needle out the first time and rub the hair downward and forward with the side of the shoe.
