Goodfellows search for more members

Christmas seems like a way off, but to the Farmington Goodfellows, the holiday season is right around the corner, but they need help.

Retirements and moves out of the community have hit the Goodfellows' ranks where it hurts—in their standing committee chairpersons' seats. And director Richard Tupper is seeking about a half a dozen enthusiastic volunteers to head up the doll committee, dress drive, and administrative work.

"We've had quite a decline in our regulars," Tupper says. "Lots of people aren't aware that the Goodfellow program is open to anyone and everyone, and we need some new blood." The Goodfellows have been in operation for about 40 years in the Farmington-Farmington Hills area, and they make Christmas a little brighter for a number of needy families. Food baskets, toys, and clothes are provided to those in need through donations and funds col-

Air Force wants Sutton

Daniel Richard Sutton, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sutton, 2372 Cora, Farmington Hills, has entered the US Air Force's delayed enlistment program.

Sutton will begin four years of active service Oct. 14, with six weeks' basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Sutton is a 1977 graduate of Farmington High School.

lected in the annual paper drive.

While Tupper usually has little problem in getting volunteers to sell papers and distribute the goods, he's looking hard for some organizational types to begin the heavy job of organizing the entire program.

"WE REALLY need volunteers to work in all areas, but we've lost several of standing committees who've been doing the work for years," he says. "That's where we're really hurting."

The head of the doll program is responsible for organizing the purchase and outfitting of dolls, and the chairperson of the dress drive will get going with the making and purchase clothes for needy youngsters.

Tupper also needs some administrative help in addressing envelopes and other clerical work, a job that could be done in the home, like the other jobs.

Ten standing committees and seven advisors make up the backbone of the organization, which normally calls on about 50 volunteers in the final two-week rush. Usually Kiwanis, Rotary, Jaycees, police officers, and the Farmington Elks and Lions help out in the pre-Christmas volunteer work. The Farmington Exchange Club sponsors the Goodfellows.

If you're interested in volunteering, contact Tupper at 474-5771. DR

"Any group who'd like to take on a phase of the work would be welcome, as well as any persons interested," he added.

At Christmastime, there's a Goodfellow on every corner. In spite of retirements and transferred members, the group is trying to duplicate this scene for 1977.
