Bridal fashions unveiled

Hudson's Northland introduced bridal fashions to customers Sunday with the addition of a 2,000 square foot Bridal Salon, on the store's third level.

A dropped ceiling and marble accented floor covering create an atmosphere to welcome customers into the spacious round inception area. Professional consultants will be on hand to help with selections and fittings in one of the six fitting rooms.

The salon will open with a number of bridal gowns, including styles from Carolina Herrara, Richard Glasgow, The Diamond Collection, John Bradley and others.

Bridesmaid collections from Watters & Watters, Dessy Creative, Jim Hjelm and Bill Levkoff also will be among the fashions offered. Hats and veils will be available to coordinate with the many style selections.

The inclusion of the Bridal Salon makes Hudson's Northland a one-stop wedding planning facility, from shower invitations to honeymoon planning to setting a new home.

Already established are a gift registry, stationery, travel, florist and beauty services and a FYI Wardrobe Planning and Shopping Service.

After the honeymoon, FYI consultants can provide home and business needs, from shower curtains to computers.
