Temple allowed four hits, three walks and struck out five CC batters in falling to 9-2 overall. Scott Kapla, CC's ace, earned the win after relieving starter Dan Gusoff in the third and not allowing any North hits.

Temple was one of 11 North seniors playing their final game.

"I think Mark threw well, considering the conditions," North coach Irv Horowitz said. "He ended up 9 and 2 and I think he's all-state material. It was great working with the seniors this year. All of them grew up with my son (Jason) and they're a great group of players."

North the first lead, 1-0, after pushing across a first-inning run against Gusoff. Mike Jehle and Horowitz walked and two batters later, Jon Sturtz poked an RBI single with two outs.

CC tied the score in the second after loading the bases with singles by Aaron Balicz and Brett Walter and a walk to Gusoff. Eric Justice's fielder's choice grounder sent home Balicz with the tying run.

Wilks doubled to lead off the third for North and Salter decided to bring in Kapla. Kapla struck out six and walked only one in five innings of work.

Kapla pulled a leg muscle running the bases but should be ready for Wednesday's 1 p.m. Catholic League championship against Warren DeLaSalle.

"I felt Kapla would be stronger in relief (instead of starting), throwing strikes," Salter said. "Gus hasn't pitched in two weeks and I can't fault him. I figured it would be a low-scoring game with Temple throwing and I didn't want to give up more runs."

In the mercy win over Harrison, CC smashed nine hits off starting and losing pitcher Mike Pesci. Hicks scored three runs to lead the Shamrocks, while Gusoff highlighted a five-run second inning with a three-run double off the left-field fence. Harrison's season ended at 12-7 overall.

(Harrison scored its lone run in the first when Amanda Ault tripled and scored on Andrea Najarian's single).

In the soggy nightcap against Farmington, Jose scattered three hits and walked five in five innings. (The game was halted because of the mercy rule).

Jose beats Falcons

"We heard a rumor that she (Jose) could get wild, but she was not wild," Farmington coach Julie Ingalls said. "We started the game taking pitches, but that obviously didn't work.

"They're a good team and they beat us solidly."

Ironically, Farmington pulled off the real surprise of the day, knocking off rival North, 7-6.

North, an upset winner in the predistrict a week earlier over Livonia Ladywood, was expected to reach the final against Churchill.

But Farmington jumped out to a 3-0 lead through four innings before North responded with five runs in the top of the fifth, keyed by Melonie Cheney's two-run single.

The Falcons answered with three runs in the bottom of the inning, the big hit coming from Danielle Salyer, whose slap-hunt single scored two runs. Marlo Walker's RBI single then put Farmington ahead 6-5.

The Falcons added another run when Nicole Noch, who went 3-for-4, scored on an error in the sixth.

North pulled within a run in the top of the seventh, 7-6, on Tami Conti's RBI single, scoring pitcher Karen Seremet.

The Raiders, however, left the tying run on third base and the winning run on second when Farmington pitcher Suzanne Corlson got pinch-hitter Katie Mackie on a groundout to first.

It was Farmington's first win over North this season after losing by counts of 7-2 and 10-0.

Raiders lose momentum

"We were totally flat," said North coach Dave Brubaker, whose team finished 11-12 overall. "It took us to the fifth inning to get going. Maybe we took them lightly and thought we had it in the bag. For some reason we don't play well under adverse weather."

The weather, meanwhile, had little effect on the Chargers, who ripped shot after shot against two Farmington pitchers in the championship final.

Kim Jose contributed three hits for Churchill in the final, while teammate Chrissy Daly added two. Jose also helped her own cause with two hits.

Against Harrison, first baseman Trudi Luczak collected three hits to lead the way.

"We've got nothing but better and we're a young team," Hardwidge said. "And I thought we played well defensively."
