Commission focuses on education

CABLE CONNECTION

LARK SAMOUELIAN

At the March 25 meeting of the Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission, it was decided to grant a regular agenda line item for education.

Farmington Superintendent of schools Michael Flanagan has spoken at the last two meetings to emphasize the importance of working together as we proceed in the age of telecommunications. He also has emphasized that he looks forward to MetroVision's technical staff improving on the quality of cablecasting of the school board meetings.

Mr. Flanagan will determine with the other representative schools in our community who will be the ongoing appointed educational liaison for the representative bodies of Farmington schools, Novi schools, Clarenceville, Walled Lake, Oakland Community College and private and parochial. All these entities received recognition throughout the years of our cable franchise.

In the past year both the cable industry and the telephone industry have made nationally acclaimed commitments to education. As the technology develops, we look forward to a network which will facilitate state-of-the art learning, as well as cost effective methods in times of revenue difficulties.

The Southwestern Oakland Cable Commission looks forward to moving into the future with increased strength of our community and salutes Mr. Flanagan for his progressive outlook.
