Symphony presents 'Suite Moments'

"Suite Moments," the Southfield Symphony Orchestra's benefit concert for its 43rd season features the talents of three guest artists — soprano Nancy Elledge, pianist Sarina Ohno and violinist Anna Helleur — Saturday, June 17, at the Southfield Civic Center Pavilion, 26000 Evergreen Road (at 10½ Mile Road).

Anna Helleur

The event, sponsored in part, by the Cultural Arts Division of Southfield Parks & Recreation, begins 6 p.m. with a social hour. Dinner follows at 7 p.m., an auction at 8:15 p.m. and the concert at 8:45 p.m. The concert is supported, in part, by a $1,000 grant from the Japanese Society of Detroit Foundation to help bring international guests to Southfield.

Tickets are $40, $75 (includes champagne) and $100 (includes champagne, memento and really good seats).

Tickets also are available for the auction and concert only (not including dinner) at $10.

Elledge, a versatile vocalist whose range includes opera, American standards and old world classics, has performed worldwide, including a command performance for Queen Elizabeth.

Recently returned from a six-nation tour in the Far East, Elledge performed with Artists International as a soprano soloist and, prior to that, sang in 13 orchestral concerts during a six-week tour of Japan.

Helleur was born in England and began violin lessons at age 3. Currently living in Los Angeles, Helleur recently was offered a five-year recording contract with Classic Jewel and her debut CD will be released this year.

Ohno is a member of the Institute of Chamber Music at the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee. She has performed throughout Europe as a soloist, recitalist and chamber musician and performed live radio broadcasts in Germany.

Concert features Chicago Children's Choir

Chicago Children's Choir will perform at the Community House, 380 South Bates Street, Birmingham, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 28, as part of their national tour.

The concert will be followed by an afterglow. Tickets are $10 adults, $2 children and students. Call (810) 644-5832.

Chicago Children's Choir is a multi-racial, multi-cultural children's choir. The program provides high quality musical education, vocal skills development, and performance opportunities for young people ages four to 18.

The choir was founded in 1956 by the late Rev. Christopher Moore at the Unitarian Church of Hyde Park as an outreach program to the children of Hyde Park and surrounding neighborhoods.

Their multi-lingual repertory, which includes sacred and secular works, classical, American spirituals, and folk songs from around the world, reflects the cultural diversity of its singers.

The choir gives over 100 concerts annually throughout the U.S., Japan, Canada, Europe and Russia.

Today, approximately 2,000 children participate in the choir's tuition-free programs. The choir is an independent, non-profit organization.

"Artistic excellence is what we're all about," said William Chin, artistic director.
