Pro-am event makes for exciting bowling

BOWLING HONOR ROLL

AL HARRISON

Did this edition arrive on time today?

The Observer & Eccentric is always right there for you to keep up with local happenings and, best of all, to read every Ten Pin Alley. We have Larry Geiger, the circulation manager, to thank for the good service.

Larry is also a pretty good bowler. We bowled together in the Pro-Am at Taylor Lanes last Saturday and he scored a fine 1,486 with his pro partners Johnny Petraglia, Robert Smith and Wayne Webb.

Each of them bowled pretty well and Larry did quite well himself with games of 213-254-632 to earn himself a nice payoff for seventh place.

I had the same partners, but I regret to inform my readers that I did not nearly keep up with Larry, so I came away with empty pockets. Petraglia was one of 13 pro bowlers to bring up a 300 game during the preliminaries and it was this same veteran of the PBA who was seeded second going into the TV finals on Wednesday night.

Every match in the stepladder finals was a close and exciting one which could have gone either way but for a stubborn seven or ten pin.

Mike Aulby beat John Gant 246-210, then Steve Hoskins nudged Aulby 222-200, followed by the most interesting matchup between Hoskins and Petraglia. Both warriors started out with five strikes, but the seven pin did in Petraglia in the end as Hoskins prevailed, 268-245.

Finally, it was a showdown between Hoskins and Nova Wodka of Las Vegas. Wodka survived a nasty split in the fifth frame and fired four strikes in a row to take his first PBA tour championship. Wodka's purse was $15,000.

•Other Amateur entrants in the Taylor Pro-Am from O & E communities who cashed were Robert Schopis, Frank Kasprzynski, Gary Broyles and Steve Hatch from Livonia; Sam Lolacono of Canton; Marlene Kurlink of Redford; Ronald Zakalowski, Eric Skeels and Heather Skeels of Westland; Jim Preel and Jeff Bergen of Waterford.

•High schools are having tryouts for the bowling teams which will be competing as a varsity sport. Tryouts for Livonia schools will be held at 4 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 3 and 12:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 7 at Merri Bowl Lanes on Five Mile Road, near Merriman.

Student bowlers will have the opportunity to win scholarship money competing in the district and state finals. They will be provided with uniforms in traditional school colors and will receive excellent coaching.

For more information, call Debbie at (734) 427-2500.

•Entry blanks are now available for the 68th annual Old Timer's Tournament and party set for Saturday, Nov. 27, at Thunderbowl Lanes in Allen Park.

This popular event is open to men at least 40 years old who have been associated with bowling 25 years or more. There will be two squads, one at 9:30 a.m. and the other at 1 p.m.

When the afternoon event finishes, there will be a buffet style dinner served in the dining room at approximately 8:30 p.m.

Total cost for bowling, dinner, refreshments, awards and special prizes is only $18. The cost for bowling only will be $9.

This year's event is dedicated to Alex Brumer, a past president of the Greater Detroit Old Timers Bowling Association. For more information, contact secretary John Chemko at 810-758-3240.

•The 10th annual Greater Detroit Bowling Association Mixed Tournament is set for Saturday-Sunday, Nov. 6-7 and Nov. 13-14 at Bonanza Lanes in Warren. Squad times are 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

The event, open to sanctioned GDBA and DWBA bowlers currently bowling in centers within the GDBA jurisdiction, features teams of two men and two women.

Top prizes will be $3,000 for first place and $1,500 for second (based on 300 entries). Entry fee is $90 per team ($30 per bowler) with the prize portion returned 100 percent.

There is at least one prize per 10 entries. GDBA has added $500 to the prize fund. Call the GDBA at 810-773-5330 for more information.

•Did you know that every three minutes a child in Michigan is abused?

For any persons who would like to "strike out" child abuse, the Evergreen Children's Services will be running their 8th annual Strike Out Child Abuse Bowl-A-Thon, Saturday, Nov. 20 at Cloverlanes in Livonia.

For those who are interested in participating, it is a no-tap fun event hosted by WJR's Michael Barr.

Persons who collect the most pledge dollars will win a variety of prizes including week-end trips. The minimum pledge is $50 per person.

For entry forms and pledge sheet, call Ron Jackson at Evergreen Children's Services 313-532-1000.
