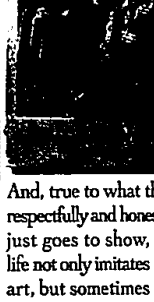
"Buying one was just like in one of those commercials."



Prior to buying a new car, Tom and Molly pored through auto magazines, and even went so far as to watch car commercials. They liked what they learned about Saturn's safety features and low cost of ownership, so they decided to come by and take a look for themselves.

And, true to what they'd seen on TV, they were treated respectfully and honestly. No runaround or rigmarole. Which just goes to show, life not only imitates art, but sometimes even what you see on TV. Hope to see you soon.
