FOREST LAND INCREASED DURING PAST 2 YEARS

Lansing.—Michigan now holds title to 603,475 acres in state forest lands, an increase of 231,171 acres over the figure for the end of the fiscal year 1927-28.

Two years ago, figures compiled by the Forestry Division of the Department of Conservation show, the state owned 373,304 acres in state forests. This figure had mounted to 603,475 acres June 30, 1930.

About half of the newly acquired acreage was through tax delinquency. Of the acres obtained during the past two years, 176,600 were through tax delinquency; 38,536 were purchased; 15,398 were obtained by exchange; and 637 were acquired by gift. These areas represent land added to forest boundaries as well as interior areas acquired for purposes of consolidation.

More than one-third of the present plant of the Bell System has been constructed within the past five years.
