Pastors Attend State Meeting

The Rev. George Ramsey and The Rev. Robert Sawyer, pastors of the Presbyterian Church of Farmington, were in attendance at the 130th meeting of the Synod of Michigan, United Presbyterian Church, held at Alma College, Alma, Michigan, June 9-11.

In its initial action, the Synod elected the Reverend Dr. Wanzer Brunelle, pastor of the Allen Park Presbyterian Church, Allen Park, Michigan, as its moderator for the second consecutive year, an unprecedented event. This is the highest office of the United Presbyterian Church in Michigan and has generally a term of one year.

The Synod was opened with a conference on the theme "Mission in the Post-Fifties."

The more than 300 delegates were unanimous in taking a firmer stand and making marked strides in the integration of churches, cutting across racial, cultural and color lines. The examples are becoming more numerous where interracial churches are being established and effectively accomplished.

Recognizing the tremendous impact that the "knowledge" explosion is having on our world, a renewed and urgent emphasis was placed on the establishing of a Center of Continuing Education of the clergymen and laymen of the Synod.
