What does it take to run a baby?

Plenty—and plenty of electricity, too. A hungry young citizen needs food—lots of it—often. That food needs preparation—refrigeration—reheating.

Baby needs hot water—lots of it—often. So does his wardrobe. And because Mother worries about germs, she boils practically everything but Baby himself.

Clocks must be dependable when there's a baby in the house. Lights must go on—quick—when he cries out in his sleep. Rooms must be kept warm—the list is endless.

Today's mothers are luckier than those of 20 years ago. With electricity ready at all times—in any quantity—to help with the household chores, mothers have more time to enjoy their youngsters. Never before has electricity done so many tasks for so little cost. Actually, the average family today gets twice as much electricity for its money as it did 20 years ago. Your friends and neighbors in this company—and your own increased usage—helped make that possible.
