FHS Varsity Club Rules Adopted

The training committee of the Farmington High School Varsity Club recently presented a list of rules for athletes that were adopted by the group.

The training committee held four meetings in forming the code. The rules as presented were:

1. No athlete will smoke or drink alcoholic beverages.
2. All athletes will follow the training rules of the coach "in season."
3. An athlete failing to adhere to these rules will be ineligible for athletic competition for one year.

After a lengthy discussion on this topic and a discussion on the possibility of purchasing a whirlpool from the sale of refreshments at the tournaments, the meeting was adjourned.

The session was attended by about 50 boys and the coaching staff.

Golf Team Holds First Meeting

An early meeting of all golfers was called Friday morning, March 2, by Clarence Slewbridge, golf coach at Farmington High School.

Although practice will not begin until the latter part of March, the instructor told the prospective players about the coming season and distributed information sheets.

A meeting is called for 3 p.m. Thursday, March 8, in the high school cafeteria to hear Jimmy Johnson, professional at the Farmington Country Club. He will discuss the possibilities of holding golf instructions for students at the high school.

Anyone who would like to learn to play golf, or who already plays, is invited to attend the meeting. A large attendance will increase the possibilities of offering golf lessons at the school.

Falcons To Meet Redford St. Mary's In District Tournament Friday Night

Friday, March 8, will mark the first appearance of the Farmington Falcon cagers in the current district basketball tournaments, being held in the Farmington High School gym.

The Falcons will square off against Redford St. Mary's team at 8:30 p.m. Redford St. Mary's has won fourteen straight games and finished second in its league.

With Donahoo, an All-City and All-State end in football, and Arbanis, one of the top cage scorers, leading the quintet, Redford St. Mary's should prove to be a serious threat to Farmington's progress in the tournaments.

The Falcons, however, have been practicing diligently for a week and a half, and will be no pushover.

The winner of the contest will meet the victor of the Garden City - Clarenceville game, in the Class B finals on Saturday, March 10, at 8:30 p.m.

District champions will participate in the Regional tournament, to be held at Bentley High School beginning Wednesday, March 14, at 7:00 p.m.

The following games will be played at Bentley on Friday and Saturday, March 16 and 17. Drawing for pairings for the tourney were held at Bentley on March 12.

The trail of the winners in the Regional meets will lead to the quarter, semi and finals, to be quarter-finals, semi-finals and finals, to be held in Lansing late in March.

The rewards of duty are not rest from labor, but greater tasks.

ICE FISHERMEN URGED TO MOVE SHANTIES SOON

An annual reminder to ice fishermen comes from the Conservation Department. Be sure your shanty is high and dry before the ice breaks up.

State law declares that owners shall remove their fishing shanties before conditions become unsafe. Failure to obey the law can result in fines up to $50 and or 30 days in jail.

In addition, if the shanty breaks through and conservation officers have it removed from the water, the owner must pay the cost of removal.

Trojan Eighth Graders Lose Final Contest

The Clarenceville eighth grade basketball team brought its season to a close with a five win - two loss record by dropping the last game of the season last week to Wallaceville by the score of 26-18.

Both teams played good ball the first half but the C. H. S. team seemed to relax into sloppy play after halftime.
