Completes Four Week Air Force ROTC Encampment In Florida

James Thomas Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Neal of Farmington, has returned home following a month-long summer encampment at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida under the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training program.

A student at Michigan State University, Neal is majoring in geology. The four-week summer training period, which began August 5, was a component part of the four-year ROTC training each cadet received while attending college.

The summer program is designed to prepare the prospective officer for service in the Air Force and to orient him with military life and procedures. Successful completion of the four year college ROTC course, the summer training period, and the earning of a college degree, entitles the cadet to a reserve commission as a Second Lieutenant.

The four-week period of intensive training this summer included reveille and physical training each morning at 4:45 with training during the day including drilling, instruction, field trips, touring of various base facilities and retreat, terminating with taps at 9:45 p.m.

Highlights of the summer encampment included a jet flight in a T-33, during which the cadet handled the controls for a short time, and a four-hour cross-country navigational flight in a C-45. Field trips were made to the climatic hangar at Eglin, the U .S. Army Ranger Camp, and the Naval Air Station at Pensacola, where a tour was taken aboard the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Saipan.

Refreshments, furnished by the Bond P.T.A. executive Board, will be served at the end of the evening.

Experience, though costly, seems to make us bolder; hence we blunder into the same old dilemmas again and again.

The early lawmakers must have mistrusted everyone; otherwise they would not have made the terms of elective office so short. Maybe they were right at that.

If a husband gives a party, unanimously agreed successful by all present, his wife tells everyone it would have been a far better party if she had been consulted.

Answer ERIE

HOW TO PLAY:
In the sample puzzle, as in all of the 54 Official Puzzles, there are exactly enough letters contained within the squares to correctly spell the name of a certain city or town in one of the 48 states. Object of the game is to untangle the letters and, with the aid of the clue, determine and spell out the name. IT IS NOT NECESSARY TO WRITE THE NAME OF THE STATE. The correct name of the city or town is all that's required.
