German Exchange Students Visit Farmington

By JAN WILLIAMS

FARMINGTON

You might say the German youths visiting Farmington are as American as steak and Stroh's beer.

After two weeks in this country, the five youths agree we have good steak, although expensive, and good beer, although not as good as Germany's.

But there is more to our country and they're looking forward to seeing it.

Home base for the Deutschlanders, all of Lübeck, is with Farmington families.

Klaus Peter Rabiger, 15, is staying with Mr. and Mrs. Les Collings and 15 yr. old son Pat; Klaus Mucke, 16, with Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Traynor and 16 yr. old son Todd; Reinhard Patermann, 15, with Mrs. Betty Dana and 16 yr. old son Mark; Christian Paterman, 17, with Mr. and Mrs. Deon Burns and 16 yr. old son Pat; and Volker Boy, 18, with Dr. and Mrs. William Bauer, and 18 yr. old son Mike.

They're visting the country as part of Operation Insight '73' directed by Robert Leiber, a social worker for Farmington Community Schools, and sponsored by the Farmington Community Arts Council.

Leiber met the youths during a visit to Lubeck in 1972. He later got the idea to form a cultural exchange program with several youths in the Farmington area.

Plans were worked out last spring with parents of those participating, with German students staying at the homes of the American students in the program. The bulk of the expenses were paid by each student's parents.

The German students arrived during the first week of July and so far have seen New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit and Farmington.

The rest of their nine-week visit will include such places as Cedar Point, Canada, Colorado, a long canoe trip and a farewell dinner at Meadowbrook Hall.

The group, which includes the five German students, the five American students and Leiber, travel in a van donated by Sheller Globe in Ohio. They camp in tents at night. Roger Peck Chevrolet in Farmington also donated a station wagon for their use, free of charge.

They are expected back for a two-week stay in Farmington during August before leaving for Germany. It is hoped the American students will be able to visit Germany on the same basis next year.

The German students' impression of America so far is that the country is very similar to their own.

And when you're sitting in a Farmington living room with a 15-year-old German dressed in jeans and tennis shoes, playing "Them Old Cottonfields Back Home" on the guitar and singing along, you have to agree.

The words may be German, but the tune is the same.

Jaegers Coming Home

FARMINGTON

A saddened William Jaeger family were due back at their Farmington home today (Saturday), their seven-year-old daughter's abduction still unsolved.

The family left the campground kidnapping site near Bozeman, Mont., Wednesday, an FBI agent said. They were due to arrive at Sioux Falls, Mont., Thursday and Madison, Wis., yesterday.

The decision to leave the area where her little daughter, Susie, vanished June 25 was described as wrenching for the mother. She wavered several days, relatives said.

In a telephone call to her grandmother earlier this week, Mrs. Jaeger was quoted as saying she couldn't "make up her mind" to leave the area with her child's disappearance still a mystery.

"There are no new leads," said the grandmother, Mrs. Louisa Kaiser of Walled Lake. "The longer this goes on, the less hope there is of a happy ending. She may just have to accept this and never know why it happened.

"But she told me she just couldn't make up her mind to leave the area."

"I was told first that the family had left last weekend," an agent in the Detroit FBI office said. "Then I learned Tuesday they still were there. Now I'm told they left Wednesday."

Federal agents still are "checking out suspects and leads," the FBI man said. "We always get a lot of them in cases like this." But he reported no new development.

Agents located Mrs. Jaeger's sister, Mrs. Patty Coy, 26, in Florida, Mrs. Kaiser said, but she was unable to give any information that might help in locating the abductor.

Mrs. Coy was contacted after she wrote Mrs. Kaiser, "apparently unaware of what had happened," her grandmother said.

B - The City may, in its discretion, grant permission for the trimming of trees when necessary to make the lines safe and accessible, such trimming to be done under its supervision.

C - The construction of the said lines shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Michigan Public Service Commission or its successor.

It is understood that the grantee is subject to regulation by the Michigan Public Service Commission and that any order, rule, or regulation by that Commission, or its successor, will prevail over any regulation herein contained or provided for in case of conflict.
