F.H.S. Lags Behind Detroit In Science, Math Enrollment

In response to a study by the Citizens Advisory Committee on School Needs in Detroit, a study of Farmington Senior High's enrollment has been made by the Farmington Journalism department.

The study revealed that Farmington Senior High lagas behind Detroit schools in science and math enrollment.

Of Farmington's 802 students, 281 or 42 percent of the student body are taking science courses. In Detroit 50 percent of the students are enrolled in science classes.

In Detroit 53½ of the pupils are taking courses in mathematics, but in Farmington only 442 out of 806 or 49 percent are enrolled in math courses.

Farmington High has a higher percentage of foreign language students than Detroit schools have. In Farmington 237 or 26 percent of the students are enrolled in foreign languages as compared to 21 percent for Detroit schools. Of the three languages offered at F.H.S., Spanish leads in enrollment with 111 students. French is second with 74 students and Latin is third with 52.

The Detroit report does not indicate whether the percentages described above were determinded on the basis of grades 9-12 or grades 10-12.

The subcommittee proposes that refresher courses be set up for eleventh and twelfth grade students who do not have a reasonable level of ability in reading, speaking, listening, writing and arithmetic. Farmington does have a refresher arithmetic course in which there are 22 students enrolled. As of yet, however, Farmington's curriculum does not include the other mentioned courses.

There has been a great growth in the driver education enrollment at Farmington Senior High since the state law initiating driver education was passed. There are presently 234 students enrolled in driver training.

There are 108 enrolled in home economics classes and 96 enrolled in art.

State Politics Stumps Pupils

Trying to instill in the hearts of his senior fledglings the importance of current events, Mr. Thomas Peace, on one of his recent tests, asked: "Who was the recently elected governor and lieutenant-governor?"

At first glance this question appears relatively simple, but it proved to be a stickler to many.

Seven out of 26 did not know who was elected Governor. Twenty-five out of 26 did not know who was named Lieutenant-Governor, Mr. Peace said. "This is known as education for citizenship."

Conferring With Local "Frosh" At Colleges

Mr. Humble, Mr. Timmons and Miss Carley are attending a principal-freshman conference today at Michigan State University.

This morning they will have interviews with the students who have graduated from Farmington and they will also have the opportunity to talk with representatives of the University.

At a luncheon Dr. John N. Stohaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Foundation, will talk on "Practices and Trends in College Admissions."

This will be followed by a guided tour of the Student Services and College of Education buildings.

Mr. Timmmons and Mr. Humble will also attend a principal-freshman conference at Eastern Michigan next Tuesday, November 25.

On that day at 8:30 they will speak with the six freshman who are graduates of Farmington. After this there will be an open house period so that they can talk with college personnel. This will be followed by a luncheon and a speaker. B.L.K.

Seniors Select New York Trip

Trip clubbers narrowed their choices of trips to three this week, and then picked New York as the favorite.

The top selections were New York, Washington, D. C., and a Mackinac Island-Great Lakes Cruise.

The tour will be four days and will run over the Memorial Day weekend.

A speaker will come and talk to the Club at the next meeting. He will tell of the main points of interest that will be available on the New York visit.

Varsity Debate Team Picked

The 1958-59 Varsity debate teams were chosen and announced last Thursday evening by Lloyd Smith, debate coach.

Chosen for the affirmative team were Terry Davis and Mike Hamilton, both veteran debaters from last year's varsity squad. They went undefeated last year.

Chosen for the negative were Murlene Dowding and Johanna Walker. Murlene is a veteran also of last year's varsity group and has had special debate training at Michigan State University's summer school speech program. Johanna Walker is the only senior of the group and joins the varsity squad after having been an active JV debater last year.

The FHS Debate Club went to Ypsilanti to a practice tournament sponsored by Eastern Michigan College, last Thursday, November 13. The debate was with various other schools around this area and eastern Michigan.

The squad is going to Pontiac today, Thursday, November 20, to have a practice meet. Through these practice meetings, debators are preparing for their four Inter-Lakes League tournaments which begin December 1.

The tournaments start at approximately 1:30 p.m. There will be a post-season banquet of all Inter-Lakes Debate League participants on the first Monday of the second semester, at Waterford High School. The championship trophy will be awarded at that time.

The four Debate Tournaments will be: Monday, December 1, Cranbrook; Monday, December 8, Walled Lake; Monday, January 5, Southfield and Monday, January 12, Farmington.

Seek Higher Caliber Grads

The University of Michigan wants higher caliber students.

This was the implication of statements of University officials, according to Miss Virginia Carley and Mr. Clayton Timmons, counselors, who attended the Principal-Freshmen Conference in Ann Arbor, November 6.

Mr. James Lewis, vice-president, and a panel composed of various University officials, spoke of additional ways that high schools and the University can insure students' success at Ann Arbor.

The panel stressed that the students who succeed at the University are usually those with high academic records, those who have read widely, are highly motivated, independent and mature.

Miss Carley said that in interviewing the eight freshmen who graduated from Farmington last year, she found that the top students were doing well but that students who were B and C people here were finding the U of M difficult. All of the students, however, work many hours on homework, she said. They are all happy, though, that they are attending the U of M, Miss Carley added. M.B.

SCHOLARSHIPS are now available for the Michigan College of Mining and Technology in the guidance office.

JUST A REMINDER that Open House will be held at F.H.S. on November 26. Students as well as parents are invited. The program is expected to adjourn at 10 p.m.

CARICATURES of faculty members and students are now on display in the art showcase.

Deer hunting began last weekend and among the enthusiasts from our area were Louis and Treava Schmidt who spent the weekend hunting at Canada Creek Lodge near Atlanta, Michigan. Also up at the Lodge was Mr. McGregor. Don Rogerson spent a long weekend hunting just outside of East Tawas.

The Fosters entertained for dinner Sunday Robert Harkins of Johnson City, Tennessee and Morleys parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Foster of Detroit.

Phyllis Schmidt spent the weekend at the University of Michigan. She was the houseguest of Pamela Chapman, who is a freshman at U of M. They attended the U of M — Indiana game on Saturday, attended a concert and also included a dance on their busy schedule.

Dorothy Thomson travelled to Boston, Massachusetts for a long weekend to visit her family. She stayed with her mother Mrs. Mary Barron.

The DeGrees had a busy weekend, Walter entertained the subdivision men's card club last Friday, and on Tuesday Hazel was hostess to the women's bridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. McGivern with Marianne and Frannie went to see the Ice Follies Sunday evening, to celebrate the girls birthdays. Marianne was eight on Nov. 19 and Frannie is 13 today, Nov. 20.
