The Palette and Brush Club will hold its annual exhibit of oils and water colors at the J. L. Hudson Company Fine Arts Galleries, 8th floor, from July 6 through July 18.A reception for members and friends will be held Monday, July, 6, from 6:00 p.m.

Members and friends are having dinner in the dining room prior to the viewing of paintings. The show was juried by Cyril Miles and Edity Obel. The public is cordially invited.

The exhibitors from this area are Mr. D. C. McKay, Mrs. F. C. ZeBornick, Mrs. Joseph Sands Mrs Arthur Verscaeve and Mrs. Mathew Lodge.

Take a look in your clothes closet and see how high the rods are hung. For street Dresses and coats, a rod 63 in. above the floor is fine, say home management specialists at Michigan State University. For suits, blouses and skirts, the rods can be just 45 inches high.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larch of 29901 Middlebelt Road, Farmington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lee Jane, to John R. DiMaio, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. DiMaio of Goldsmith Road, Farmington. John, a 1955 graduate of Farmington High School, is an electronics technician attending school at Fort Bliss, Texas. Miss Larch is a 1959 graduate of Farmington High.

Use Special Sprayer For Insect Control

Going to do some spraying for insects in your orchard or garden? Don't use a sprayer that has been used for weed control, warn Michigan State University horticultural specialists.

They caution that the chemicals used in weed control are no safe on plants, and that the sprayer cannot be completely cleaned.

Local Couple Exchange Vows at OLS June 20

Elizabeth Ann Mereshak of 19387 Eastbrook, Wood Creek Farms Village, became the bride of Wilford Joseph Schalden brand of 27615 Halsted Road Farmington, at a Nuptial Mass at Our Lady of Sorrows Church Saturday, June 20.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mereshak and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schaldenbrand.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Father R. Laufger with organ selections being played by Mrs. Joseph Schafer. Ten girls from St. William's choir in Walled Lake sang.

A GOWN OF imported silk organdy, with rose appliques edging the neckline and dotting the full skirt, was worn by the bride. A huge organdy bow gave a bussel effect to her floor-length gown. A scalloped halo covered in organdy and edged with seed pearls held a fingertip veil of French illusion in place. A boquet of two white orchide surrounded by white carnations and orange blossoms, designed by Mrs. Arthur Schaldenbrand, Sr., was carried by the bride.

Maid of honor was Helen Rose Mereshak, young aunt of the bride. She wore white organdy with a pink embroidery hat and pink bows of tulle and carried a colonial boquet of deep pink carnations.

BRIDESMAIDS were Sharon McHugh of Farmington and Jill Molnar of Taylor, Michigan. They were gowned idential to the maid-of-honor. Theresa Ann Balash of Dearborn was flower girl.

Arthur Schaldanbrand, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Peter Schaldenbrand and Davit Toth, cousin of the bride, were groomsmen. Ronald Kudla of Farmington was usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Mereshak wore a beige organdy sheath with brown embroidery, beige shoes, hat and gloves and an organza hat designed for the dress. The bridegroom's mother chose a smoke gray gown with swirling peplem and white organdy portrait collar, pearl-gray hat, embroidered madalions, grey beaded bag and metallic pumps. Both wore deep pink carnation sorsages.

A RECEPTION was held in he garden at the home of the bride's parents. A buffet luncheon, catered by Bowman's Farm Cupboard was served.

The bride graduated from Farmington High and Madonna College and had taught at the St. William's School in Walled Lake. Schaldenbrand also graduated from Farmington High and completed his college training at Lawrence Institute of Technology this year.

The newlyweds traveled to the West coast on a wedding trip. For travel the new Mrs. Schaldenbrand chose a dark plaid sheath with tiny black velvet hat.

Many Camping Opportunities Offered Girl Scouts in Area

This summer many girls will have great fun attending the camping events offered by the Southern Oakland Girl Scout Council, a Torch Drive Agency.

Fun and adventure for Girl Scout of all ages is offered at Day Camp throughout the council. Girls may camp by day and return home each night during each eight day session.

The girls live together in camp communities call units. With their trained counselors, they plan and cook meals, hike, study nature and participate in other activities that are fun in an outdoor setting. Senior Scouts who are trained program aides have a *special unit of their own. They give valuable help by sharing their special skills with the campers.

Indianwood Day Camp is held on council-owned land located west of Lake Orion. Camping on this site started June 22 and will continue through August 14.

Mrs. Grant Maudlin, 3616 Normandy, Royal Oak, and Mrs. Hugh S. Clark, 18700 Bainbridge Drive Birmingham, were the directors, for the first session just concluded. Directors for the 2nd session are Mrs. Paul Beck, 13741 LaBelle, Oak Park and Mrs. Norman F. Rockwell, 521 Le Roy, Clawson. The camp dates are July 7-10 and 14-17.

Mrs. Chester Wells, 801 N. Dorchester, Royal Oak and Mrs. Michael Maxim, 1524 Pinecrest, Ferndale, will direct the 3rd session running July 21-24 and 28-31. The last session is August 4-7 and 11-14, headed by Mrs. Robert W. Gilling, 25235 Orchard Lake Road, Farmington and Mrs. James E. Steele, 6790 E. Dartmoor, Birmingham.

The Girl Scout neighborhoods will operate their own camps. Mrs. Bill Karpovich, 23720 Vance, Hazel Park will direct Holoma Camp, August 4-7 and 11-14. The Kenneth Bassett Farm is the location for Novi Day Camp July 14-17 and 21-24, Mrs. Daniel MacGillivray, 44011 Stassen Novi, is the director. The Troy Day Camp will run July 6-9 and 13-16 at Boulan Park in Troy. The director will be Mrs. Michael Bordoni, 685 E. Square Lake Road, Rochester.

Most girls dream of attending an established camp sometime during their lives. One hundred ninety-seven acres of rolling hills and woods along Narrin Lake is the setting for Camp Narrin, the Southern Oakland Girl Scout established camp. Four camping sessions will take place place during July 5 to August 29.

Small self-governing units plan with their counselors, progressive outdoor activities suitable to the girls ages and experience. Days are filled with hiking, water sports, singing, campcraft, dramatics and campfire programs. Girls learn to live happily in the out-of-doors with new and old friends; they have the opportunity to gain a deeper appreciation of the natural surroundings.

Special opportunities for older girls attending Camp Narrin are pinoeer camping which features advanced camp craft skills or a three day canoe trip down the Huron River, after the planning and preparation is done in camp. A two-year counselor-in-training program is offered for girls 16 and 17 years old.

Camping trips for Senior Scouts (14-17) are sponsored each year by the South Oakland Girl Scout Council. This year a canoe trip on the Rifle River is planned for July 7 through 11. Attending from Farmington will be: Judy Beams of 33215 Oakland.

Accompanying the girls on the trip will be Mrs. Garth F. Mayo 507 W. 10 Mile Road, Pleasant Ridge and Mrs. Alex Barazani, 1560 Catalpa, Berkley.

Individual Girl Scout troops spend many weekends throughout the year camping with their own troops. Troops may use campsites owned by the council, or operated by the state, as well as privately owned farms and cottages.

Recently a six day period was set aside at Camp Narrin for established troop camping called "Operation Arrowhead." Troops camped with their leaders. A director, nurse, and waterfront staff was on hand to give special help. Established troop camping provides a wider opportunity for inter-troop experiences, gives camping to more girls, and gives leaders direct help in developing the highest quality program.

A fee is charged for each event to cover the operating cost. Profits from cookie and calendar calendar sales are used to expand and maintain the physical properties. A campership fund is maintained through generosity of community minded groups and individuals to help girls who cannot pay the entire fee.

The Camping Committee is proud of the events offered to Southern Oakland Girl Scouts summer. The camp sites and equipment are ready and waiting for the girls. Everything is all set, so . . . Let's go camping!"

Art Guild Hobby Show Success

The Metropolitan Creative Art Guild held a hobby show at Bentley High School on June 24 and 25 with close to 500 people visiting the many unusual and individual exhibits of painting, sculptures, ceramics, and flower arrangements by the Rosedale Garden Club.

Mrs. Noble of the Ruth Noble Hobby Shop on 8 Mile Road, and her co-chairmen Mrs. Ada Ullius and Mrs. Irene Apel, had a wonderful display of creative custom jewelry, table centerpieces as well as leathercraft.

Mrs. Bikie, of Springbrook Subdivision, Farmington also H. A. McIntyre of Farmington Rd. had several tables of sculptures of stone and wood and also woodwork of wall plaques, candlesticks, hookends, etc.

Mrs. Peterson of Wayne Road was the general chairman.

Either Wear Those Clothes Or Toss Them

A good slogan for your wardrobe is "every ganment in service," suggests Bernetta Kabahaka, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

Begin by taking a look at your complete wardrobe at one time. Look in the closet, in drawers and storage boxes. You may be surprised to find new combinations you haven't worn before.

This over-all look can lead to a coordinated clothing plan for you, too. Maybe a new skirt will put forgotten blouses and a jacket into service again. Maybe a new belt and scarf will perk up a dress. Perhaps a few alterations will revive an old suit.

No doubt there will be some leftovers that just don't fit into your wardrobe—or that don't fit you. Perhaps it's time to get rid of those things.

Your clothing inventory can guide your clothing purchases in the future, and it can help keep every garment in service.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Announced

The teams of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Bogue, of Farmington, and Dr. A. F. Pilides and Alfred E. LaBine, both of Detroit, tied for first place in the duplicate bridge game held on June 23 at Botsford Inn.

Every Tuesday night, at 8:00 p.m., a game is available for bridge players who enjoy the competition of duplicate bridge.

The first Tuesday of each month is "master point night." Anyone interested in further information may phone GR 4-0088

Have Stork Shower For Mrs. R. Harmon

On Thursday evening June 25, a stork shower was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Hoppe on Springland Drive. The shower was in honor of Mrs. Roy Harmon, also of Springland Drive.

Cohostess for the affair was Mrs. Walter Everingham, assisted by Miss Patricia Harmon, daughter of honored guest.

From this area Mrs. E.J. Rainson, Mrs. Robert Rader, Mrs. Thomas McDonough, Mrs. Raymond Mallon, Mrs. W. McHutchion and Mrs. Charles Fleehmam.

Out of town guests present were: Mrs. C. Wray, Mrs. D. Boland Mrs. E. Burke, Mrs. E. Wicke, Mrs Bucy, Mrs M. Johnson, Mrs. Poole, Mrs. E. Unphrey, Mrs. Emmet Harmon. Games were played followed by refreshments served by the hostesses.

Local Girls Active at Girls' State

Carol Dustin and Margie Lam, Farmington's delegates to Wolverine Girls' State, returned home last Thursday after spending nine exciting days on the University of Michigan Campus.

Carol was sponsored by the Farmington Kiwanis Club and Margie was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. During their stay at Girls' State, Carol held the office of city assessor for Bryan City. She was also a member of the county board of supervisors and was elected to the Constitutional Convention. Margie was county coroner and was elected secretary of the Constitutional Convention, where she and Carol served on the committee which discussed reapportionment of the senate.

The 29th session lasted from June 16 to June 25. Wolverine Girls' State is a nine day program of governmental instruction with recreation and social activities intermingled. Girls' State is modeled as nearly as possible after the actual government of our state.

Two girls were selected to attend Girls' Nation in Washington, later this summer. Chris Schad of Birmingham, who had earlier been elected State Treasurer, was one of the girls chosen. Chris and Carol were citizens of the same city. The other delegate was Nancy Boardman from the Upper Peninsula.

Margie and Carol both Stated that Girls' State was a worthwhile and valuable experience and hope that it will be made available to more girls in the future.

Garden Club Meet July 6

The Farmington Garden Club will meet Monday, July 6, at the home of Mrs. Ray D. Eichler at 12:30 p.m. Members are invited to bring guests.

The speaker will be Joseph T. Cox professor of Urban Planning and Landscaping Architecture at Michigan State University. His subject will be "Landscaping Design."

Hostess Chairman Mrs. John MCormick will be assisted by Mesdames Loomis, McGaw, Durgan, Mansfield, Davies, Kremkow, Marks and Nahstoll.

FARMINGTON HILLS

MRS. DAVID KRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. James Yuill of Dohany Drive spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy in Findlay, Ohio.

Last Wednesday morning Mrs William Manecke and daughter Karen were pleasantly surprised with a visit from Mrs. Melvin Kaufman and daughter Sharon from Bay City The Kaufman's former Farmington residents and had returned for a day of visiting.

The Bob Tipton's of Dohany Drive have had visitors from Nashville, Tennessee. Bob's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harvill Newbern, came for a one night stay, and another sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reasonover, together with daughter and husband, Mr and Mrs. William King, spent a long weekend with them.

ANITA TIPTON is spending this week at the Wolverine Christian Camp, near Brighton.

Tuesday morning found Mrs. William Manecke and a number of Girl Scouts from Troop 258, up early. Their destination was Michigan Central Depot where they were seeing Marsha Moorhead off for the Senior Scout Round Up in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Included in the early morning jaunt were Shirley Mc Adams, Jill Slingerland and Karen Manecke. The girls planned on going down town later in the day to visit the many featured displays.

WHEN BROTHERS HAVE birthdays within two weeks of each other, it is cause for double celebrating, and so last Friday evening the Krings clan gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Krings on Dohany. Sal, whose birthday was the June 22, and Peter, whose will be on July 6 both brothers of Dave, took turns blowing out the candles.The evening was spent just visiting, since family get-to-gethers are all to infrequent.

On Monday, Mrs. Walter Gerner of Power Road assisted yours truly in entertaining the members of the Board of the Farmington Garden Club. Eleven members were on hand to enjoy the dessert served before the business meeting.

Because synthetic fabrics have low-shrinkability, it is difficult to "ease in" shaped pieces such as set-in sleeves. A pattern that calls for kimono or raglan sleeves will make your sewing job easier when using synthetic fabrics, say home economists at Michigan State University.

Mrs. Letha McKenzie announces the engagement of her daughter, Shirley Mc-Kenzie, to Robert Pettifor. They will be married Saturday, July 11, at 2 p.m.

Gives Pointers to Make Ironing Chore Easier

Planning to do your ironing today? Here is some sound advice that can make the job faster and easier. It comes from extension specialists in home management at Michigan State University.

In the first place, why iron everything? Such things as bed linens, towels, and knitwear can be left just as they are when taken from the clothesline or dryer. Simple straighten them as you hang them up, or, if you use a dryer, remove them before they are bone dry. Smooth them out before they finish drying.

In setting up an ironing center make sure there's convenient storage nearby for iron Besides an adjustable ironing board and comfortable chair, your ironing center should include a laundry basket, table and clothes rack.

By the way, have you tried sitting while you iron? You'll save energy if you do, say the experts. If you usually stand, it may take a little practice to learn to sit.

Place your ironing equipment around you in such a way that work will flow easily. You should be able to reach everything from your seated position.

Your work will be easier if you use both hands when ironing. You can arrange, smooth, and fold clothes with one hand while you iron with the other. You can also learn to handle the iron in your left hand for parts of the job.

You don't have to lift the iron to an iron-stand everytime it is necessary to set it down. If you pause for just a momen to smooth or move a garment, rest your iron at the point where you last used it instead of returning it to the right end of the board.

While your're ironing, move the finished section away from you. It's best to use long rhythmic strokes, ironing with the lengthwise grain of the fabric.

Glass Fabric Curtains Need Gentle Washing

Window curtains of glass fabric can be laundered at home and they will dry in just a few minutes.

Directions are simple — but very important to follow, states Bernetta Kabahka, extension clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

Fold the glass fabric loosely. Hand wash in mild soapsuds and water as hot as your hand will stand. Just pat the fabric gently in the water.

Do not rub, twist or wring. Glass fibers are brittle, and a little twist can break them. Result is a rip in the fabric.

Incidentally, those glass fabrics should never go into the washing machine and be agitated. Fibers break and the fabric almost disintegrates.

Rinse in clear water, and again, simply pat the fabric Do not use starch or a bleach.

You can roll the laundered fabric gently in a bath towel to remove excess moisture or put it over a line until almost dry Hang the curtains at the window while they are still damp. Hems at bottom and sides can be smoothed with your fingers. In just a few minutes, the curtains will be dry.

Garden Bug Control Tips

Soil insects, like ants and symphyids, and moles in your garden can cause expensive and bothersome damage. Now is the time to prevent this, according to Michigan State University extension specialists in horticulture.

The specialists recommend, for prevention of the insects, two and two-thirds pounds of five per cent granular Chlordane per 1,000 square feet, or one and one-third pounds of five per cent granular Dieldrin per 1,00 square feet.

The mixture should be worked and watered into the soil, say the specialists, but not more than once a year. It should be done where the insects are easily noticeable.
