EXCHANGE

A community is judged by the people within it. Every one who lives in this town; makes a living off of it or out of it; educates his children in it, and gets all he possibly can out of it, owes it a debt of loyalty and appreciation, that can only be absorbed by returning something to it.

Our town depends upon its farmers; our farmers depend upon the town; for without the town, values of farm lands would slump tremendously. Only with cooperation from both the town and the farming community around it can we hope to progress and develop as we should.

Let's push together; boost together; get together! Let people know that you are back of the community in which you live.
Make your "pushing" felt. Don't be content to just "ride" on the momentum that others have given.
Don't wait to be approached on matters of community betterment.
Start something yourself.

GOOD ROADS.

Fellow citizens and friends who would not a good roads day for the township be an economic and educational monument well worth the time and energy?

The plan would be to set aside a certain day in Farmington township in which every man, woman and child would drop all interests and join in boosting good roads. Every man and boy would put on overalls, bring their teams, wagons and road building machinery, if they had some and actively participate in filling chuck holes and putting the roads in shape. Even if no road work was attempted a rousing boosting Good Roads Holiday with well-informed speakers would be of unquestionable value to the community. The township could be divided into districts and each district could have its overseer whose duty it would be to mobilize the working force and to show the men and boys what to do.
There are enough experienced men in the township to form a workable plan for such a holiday.
All the best road commissioners in the country can not get good roads without the interest and the support of the people.

With a day set aside for good roads day, true community spirit will be present and everyone will rub elbows for the interest of the township.
