Anyone answering ads for salesmen should understand that most firms are reputable and ethical, yet there are some which a prospective salesman should investigate carefully. A call to the Better Business Bureau is always a safe procedure. The Enterprise is not always able to check up on individuals or distributors, and warns those answering such advertisements that this is entirely their responsibility.

Local Guard Officer Takes Nike Command

A Farmington resident figured closely in an impressive military ceremony last Friday when the U.S. Army officially turned over its Nike-Ajax guided missile site at Auburn Heights, Mich., to the Michigan National Guard.

New battery commander of the missile site is National Tucker, 23359 Harcourt, of Tuard Captain Frederick E. Farmington's Springbrook subdivision.

Capt. Tucker, prior to assuming command of the Nike site, underwent intensive training at the Army's Air Defense school at Fort Bliss, Texas.

The ceremony emphasized another big step in Michigan's military history.

Local Youth Earns Honorable Mention

John Oglesby, Farmington sophomore at Central Michigan University was awarded honorable mention in a recent student writing contest conducted by the campus literary magazine.

The award went to Oglesby for his individualistic poem entitled "Eye."

The local youth is on a liberal arts curriculum and is member of Tempo, the campus magazine that sponsored the contest. Central Michigan University is located at Mt. Pleasant.
