2 Lancer Wrestlers Compete in AAU Meet

Stan Secosky and Rick Reda of the Our Lady of Sorrows wrestling team recently competed in the Michigan AAU tournament, and performed in fine style.

Secosky was awarded a third place medal for his outstanding performance in the 160.5 pound weight division. Stan won the first three matches, being pitted each time against former high school wrestling stars. His only defeat came at the hands of the wrestling coach of the Hazel Park Recreation Club, Ruel McPherson, who decisioned ehim 2-0.

IN THE EARLIER matches, Secosky pinned his first opponent and decisioned his next two mat foes, 3-2, and 2-0, respectively.

Rick Reda wrestled in the 123.5 weight division and lost a tough 1-0 decision in his opening match on the basis of points awarded by the judge who ruled a "take-down" in the final three seconds of the ten-minute match.

Points are scored by the Judge as well as the referee in AAU competition and the periods, instead of the three, 2-minute periods that are used in high school meets, are divided into two, 5-minute periods.

ONE LOSS DOES not drop a wrestler from the tourney, however, since elimination is based on the number of "black points" accumulated by each wrestler. Six black points forces a wrestler out of further competition. A wrestler can score four points against an opponent with a pin, three points for a decision and two points for a draw. A decision against a wrestler also gives the winner one black point. And the only way to keep from accumulating black points is to keep pinning each of the wrestlers to face you in AAU competition.

Reda was pinned in his second match, giving him a total of seven black points and eliminating him from further competition.

SECOSKY, even though he pinned his first opponent and decisioned his next two, accumulated two black points going into his fourth match which he lost by a decision. He again decisioned his man in the fifth match, 3-0 but received the one black point in so doing that made a total of six and forced him out of further competition.

Coach Dan Potter was highly pleased with the performance of both Lancer wrestlers in the tourney. He said with only one week to practice and familiarize themselves with AAU rules, both boys didi an outstanding job against some of the best competition in the state.

Formal practice will start on March 23 with rugged wind training in sight for the team.

The first meet of the season is scheduled on April 14 against the school on the south side. After two near misses in the conference, Coach Dean, along with all his players, look forward to a highly successful season ending in a conference title.

Falcon Band Members Feted At Festival in Grand Rapids

Seven of our Farmington Senior High School Band members participated in the state solo and ensemble festival in Grand Rapids on Saturday, March 21.
