HAPPY NEW YEAR

Premature? Sure it is! But not too soon to assess your 1967 outlook. Ask yourself the following questions about your present position:
"Will it fit my 1967 expectations?"
"Is it challenging?"
"Are my talents being fully exploited?"

Now assess your answers. Is it a dead end job? Should you switch to a more rewarding career? Perhaps you should be selling our products and related business equipment. NCR did 735 million dollars worth of business last year—double that of 10 years ago. Our trained salesmen are well into the five figure income.

If you're in the 22-35 age bracket and have been to college, give me a ring during business hours or Saturday from 9-12. We'll arrange an interview—in the evening if necessary. If out of town, call me collect or send a resume.

We're speaking of local openings with no overnight travel. Sales exper. not essential, but your caliber must be compatible with our international reputation and stature. Fringe benefits are company paid.

And whether you call or not—HAPPY NEW YEAR!
