

Ahoy there

It's tough to be an urban sailor. Cars just don't have the same feel as a schooner but this compact seems to be doing just fine as it struggles to cross through the parking lot of the Roman Plaza shopping mall, 13 Mile and Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills. The mall's parking lot flooded Monday afternoon when a water main broke and forced drivers such as this one to test their nautical skills. (Staff photo by Randy Borst)

OU conducts graduation

Among the 854 Oakland University students who received degrees during commencement ceremonies, recently are several Farmington and Farmington Hills residents.

The undergraduate and graduate students all completed their course work during the winter semester. The university followed its recent practice of conducting individual graduation ceremonies for each of the academic units. There weren't any honorary degrees.

Among the Farmington residents who graduated from OU are: Francis J. Dielenhein, bachelor of general studies; John D. Kelmigian, bachelors of sociology-liberal arts; Christie M. Schalm, bachelors of nursing; Mary E. Weatherford, bachelors in psychology-liberal arts and Daniel H. Blome, bachelors of chemistry.

graduated from PU include: Geraldine A. Cook, bachelors in management; Mark D. Holcomb, bachelors in management; Cynthia L. Lombardi, bachelors in nursing; Valerie A. Perry, bachelors in nursing; Gwynne S. Starkey, bachelors in management; Mary A. Walker, bachelors in human resources development and Timothy J. Adams, bachelors in engineering.

Medical degrees given residents

Five Farmington residents have received their Doctor of Medicine degrees from Wayne State University school of medicine.

They are: Harry Buzhuzian, Allan Haggart, Charles Lilly, Walter Tom and Sanford Wagenberg.
