'Young Career Woman' nominees sought by BPW

Farmington Business and Professional (BPW) club members invite area residents to join with them in selecting this year's "Young Career Woman."

The intent of the Young Career Woman program is to recognize women deserving the honor and give these women the opportunity to meet and share ideas with experienced working women, help them to develop their speaking skills and introduce them to the workings of the national BPW organization.

The BPW on the other hand, is afforded the privilege of meeting young women who hold fresh ideas.

"The rewards of this interface, between young careerists and the BPW, are many," said Karen L. Bolsen, speaking for the local club.

The Farmington BPW will select its Young Career Woman from nominations sent by Saturday, Feb. 21. She will represent the club and compete for the district, state and national Young Career Woman titles. The candidate must win at each level of competition to be eligible for each successive competition.

THE YOUNG Career Woman candidate must be between the ages of 21 and 30 and have been employed in business or a profession with at least one year of full-time work experience.

Applications will be sent on request by calling Ms. Bolsen at home, 476-3506, or at work, 435-5340.

The applications ask for both personal and employment data; education information; honors or awards; special interests and hobbies; memberships and civic activities.

BPW was organized shortly after the turn of the century and has grown to become a national federation based in Washington, D.C. Its goal is to help secure equality for women in the workplace and equality in issues related to working women.

The national federation is supported by state federations which are supported by districts.

"BUT MY BACK DOESN'T HURT!"

People often give this excuse when it is suggested that they seek a Chiropractor for their health care needs.

Many times people try Chiropractic after they have tried everything else. They have looked and wished for the "Miracle Cure," trying everything under the sun, and they are still bothered by the nagging problem. The solution can be found right in your own body.

Your Doctor of Chiropractic deals with the fundamental laws of nature that are within each one of us. First he finds the CAUSE of your problems and then with profound knowledge and skill, very gently adjusts your spine to relieve nerve pressure and allow normal nerve energy to flow. With normal nerve energy flowing as it should, your body will naturally return to normal health.

If Chiropractic is new to you, don't expect miracles overnight. It took time for your problem to become a noticeable one, and it will take your Chiropractor some time to correct the cause of your problem.

Right now is the time to get yourself back to what you should be, healthy, naturally, and that means Chiropractic care.

Your Health is as Simple as ABC.
