THE FAMED jazz drummer and his group last appeared in this area at Windsor's Top Hat and at the Pagoda in Detroit. Currently on tour in Europe, Rich will return only shortly before his scheduled appearance in Clarenceville.

With his 16-man band, Rich, who has earned the title of the "world's greatest drummer," travels the world playing theaters, concert halls, colleges and the modern caverns of light and sound. Places include Whisky-A-Go-Go, Los Angeles, Fillmore East, New York, Basin Street, New York, and the Playground in Chicago.

Audiences range from young kids who have really come to hear the rock groups with whom Buddy shares disco engagements, but who are willing to be introduced to and captivated by the Buddy Rich Band; all age audiences who have made Buddy's albums best sellers; and finally the generations who grew up with Buddy through every era and phase of his career.

BUDDY RICH

THE SON OF vaudeville parents, Buddy at the age of seven was a child star billed as "Traps" the "Drum Wonder." He was the second highest paid child star in the world, topped only by Jackie Coogan.

He subsequently played with such bands as those of Bunny Berrigan, Artie Shaw, Tommy Dorsey and Harry James, and also worked with such jazz greats as Oscar Peterson, Dizzy Gillespie, Charlie Parker and Ella Fitzgerald.

Buddy organized his present band in 1966 combining music which is not predominently rock, soul, or far-out jazz, but big, original and explosive.

His Clarenceville appearance will begin at 8 p.m.

Production Is Revived

Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergerac," one of last season's most popular productions at the Hilberry Theatre, 4743 Cass, Detroit, is being revived and rejoins the repertory on Saturday, Nov. 7, at 8:30 p.m. It will continue weekly through the third week in December, alternating with "Macbeth" and "Room Service."

Lee Smith, a three-year Hilberry veteran, rejoins the company to take over the title role, left open when John Sterling Arnold, last season's

Lee Smith, a three-year Hilberry veteran, rejoins the company to take over the title role, left open when John Sterling Arnold, last season's Cyrano, was released from the company to appear in the Geraldine Page-Rip Torn production of "Macbeth" in New York City.

Smith, who is in his last quarter of residency as a PH.D. student, recently played the lead in the Bonstelle Theatre's "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail."

Tickets and schedules are available from the W.S.U. Theatre box office in the Hilberry lobby, telephone 577-2972. Tickets also are available at Hudson's.

Area Painter In Exhibition

A Plymouth painter, Mrs. Eugene (Johnnie) Crosby, has had one of her works shown in the Scarab Watercolor Exhibit in Detroit.

Entitled "One Michigan Birch," the painting was included in a state-wide two-week display. Mrs. Crosby, who has been painting in watercolors for about eight years, is secretary of the Plymouth YMCA.

SING-SONG — Having an old-time sing-song around the court jester, played by Don Cameron, are cast members of "The Yeomen of the Guard." The opera will be presented by the Gilbert and Sullivan Society in Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre, Ann Arbor, Nov. 11 through 14. Tickets are available at the box office, 668-6300.

In 'Othello'

William Donahue Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Donahue of Livonia, is taking the part of a senator in the play "Othello." The play will be presented Nov. 20 and 21, at Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill. Donahue is a sophomore.

Youth Hostels Plan Skiing Films, Trips

Come rain, shine or howling blizzard, this year's ski season will sweep into Detroit with the American Youth Hostel's 24th Annual "Adventures in Skiing" in Ford Auditorium.

Skiing programs are set for two Wednesday evenings at 8:30 p.m., and American Youth Hostels offer a variety of weekend and winter vacation skiing trips.

RICK GLOCKNER, who began his skiing career in Estonia will narrate his 90-minute color ski spectacular "Ski Fever" Nov. 18 at 8:30 p.m.

Nov. 25, again at 8:30 p.m., Warren Miller narrates his all-new color film "The Sound of Winter"

A ski fashion show will be presented at 8 p.m.

YOUTH GROUPS and adults will spend every weekend of the winter on the slopes in Michigan staying at hostels. Extended trips scheduled include Christmas in the Austrian Alps, 11 days in the French Alps, a week at Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies, and 10 days at Jay Peak, Vt.

Those who wish to participate should call American Youth Hostels at 273-8560.

California Poet Will Inaugurate Series

A California poet, John Ridland, will inaugurate the Visiting Poet Series at Schoolcraft College this year with two appearances scheduled for Monday, Nov. 9.

Ridland's books of poetry include "Fires of Home: Poems," published in 1961, and "Ode on Violence and Other Poems," 1969. He teaches at the Santa Barbara campus of the University of California.

The poet will speak at an informal discussion at 3 p.m. in Room B-300 of the Liberal Arts Bldg. He will read his poetry at an 8 p.m. performance in the Liberal Arts Bldg. Theater. The public is welcome, without charge, at both activities.

David Perkins of the Schoolcraft English Department is in charge of the poet's series, in presentation of the Cultural Affairs Committee.

Dorothy Donnelly of Ann Arbor will speak on November 23, and other poets are scheduled for spring appearances at the college.

3 Pianists To Star In Detroit Concerts

Robert Casadesus, widely regarded as France's greatest pianist, and his wife and son, Gaby and Jean, also noted concert pianists, will have solo roles at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's first home concerts following a two-week New England tour.

Sixten Ehrling will conduct a pair of performances featuring the Casadesus family in Ford Auditorium, Detroit, on Thursday and Saturday, Nov. 12 and 14, at 8:30 p.m.

THE WORLD premiere of a new work, "Studies for Orchestra" by Eugene Zador, will be included on the same program.

The Casadesus family will be featured in the Mozart Concerto for Three Pianos and Orchestra. Robert Casadesus also will be featured with the orchestra and Ehrling in the Liszt Concerto No. 2 for Piano and Orchestra.

This will be the first time that Robert, Gaby and Jean Casadesus have appeared with the orchestra in Detroit.

COMPOSER EUGENE Zador's "Studies for Orchestra" was written during January and February of this year. Zador has written several operas, numerous symphonic works, and has orchestrated more than 120 film scores for Hollywood, which has been his home since he left his native Hungary in 1939.

Ehrling and the orchestra will open the Thursday/Saturday program with Smetana's popular overture to the opera "The Bartered Bride."

Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 2 p.m., the symphony will have an open rehearsal with Henry Lewis conducting. Tickets are $1.50 at the box office. Proceeds benefit the orchestra's supplemental pension plan.

The school concert series will feature Pierre Hetu conducting Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. The program is for metropolitan area students and tickets are not available to the public.

Children's Programs Featured

The accent is on children's programs the two Sundays of the Jewish Book Fair, Nov. 8 and 15. The 19th annual fair is currently being held in the Jewish Community Center, 18100 Meyers Rd., Detroit.

The Rosenthal Family puppet show will give performances both Sundays, at 10 and 11 a.m. Nov. 8, and at 11 a.m., 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. Nov. 15. Mrs. Martha Marenof will lead in story telling during the morning and afternoon of both days.

The Omnibus Children's Theatre Series will present the Horakudeem Entertainers at 2 p.m., Nov. 8, in the Aaron DeRoy Theatre.

The fair will run throughout the week with talks set for each morning, afternoon and evening, except Friday, by noted Jewish authors. Monday is sisterhood day and Tuesday, Hadassah education day.

Saturday Chayele Ash and her troupe will present an evening of drama and musical comedy at 8:15 in the DeRoy Theatre.

The Gourmet Adventures of

In our own country, wine is often reserved for festive occasions and special events, although in many places in Europe a meal without wine would be unthinkable. As a result, Americans as a rule know little about the art of wine-drinking. But wine, like any other food is a matter of choice. If white wine is thought to go best with fish, and red wine with red meat, it is not because these are rules, but because the wines look better that way! Whatever your choice, however, remember that red wines are delicious when served at room temperature. To put them at their very best, let them breathe: open them two hrs. before serving. White wine, on the other hand should spend that pivotal two hrs. in your refrigerator!

We know you'll be delighted with the food prepared by the chef at DANISH INN, 32305 Grand River Ave., 476-5320, and the piano artistry of Pat Flowers who is at the piano nightly Tues. thru Sat. from 8:30 p.m.-Closing. Make your reservations now for Thanksgiving Dinner.

HELPFUL HINT: Sugar your flour board when rolling cookies--this will keep them from getting tough.
