Brothers find an explosive

A pair of Farmington Hills brothers Sunday asked police to help them get rid of an explosive a third brother left behind before moving to Houston, Texas.
Robert Feathers, of 22809 Ontago, and his brother, Michael Feathers, 38, called police at 8 p.m. when they discovered a green U.S. Army flare grenade among their brother's belongings.
The third brother, Carl Feathers, formerly of Howell, Mich., told the brothers in a phone call that there was a bomb in one of the boxes he left to be stored at his brother's house.
Police took the grenade to Seelridge Air Force Base where an army spokesman labeled the device a potential hazard.
