Rummage for sale

Pat Coleman (at left) and Connie Wingle team up again for a repeat of last year's rummage sale, which netted a sizeable donation to the operation of Farmington Community Center. Volunteers will be in the center all day, beginning at 8 a.m. on Friday, May 1, to receive contributions for the sale from all comers. The household items and clothing that are received go on sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday in the center on Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile Road. About 40 volunteers are signed up now to aid Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Wingle with the spring sale to benefit the center.

Schoenith tells how to give a party

Tom Schoenith, well-known Detroit area party giver, will share his know-how in Farmington Community Center on Saturday, May 9.

Guests will sample a supper menu that Schoenith has selected for the evening, followed by an audience participation talk on planning.

His talk is often more conversation than lecture, spiced with gossip and containing some of the secrets that keep people discussing his events long after the dishes have been washed and the candles put away.

French pancakes will be served with a variety of fillings and sauces, hors d'oeuvres, the main course and dessert, accompanied by an appropriate wine. Recipes will be available for aspiring hosts.

Although Schoenith has planned and produced hundreds of parties for celebrities and other clients and given talks on the subject to groups as diverse as The Junior League and the Engineering Society of Detroit, the combination of the two events in one affair is a new concept.

Reservations are required by calling Farmington Community Center, 477-8404.
