HOLLAND, SWITZERLAND, VISITED BY TEACHER OF FARMINGTON HIGH

(Concluded from last week)

Crossing to Holland, she visited the Peace Palace at the Hague where she saw the contributions of the various governments of the world to this building donated to the cause of peace by Andrew Carnegie. Dutch scenery is just the way everyone imagines it to be but the costumes of the people, except for the wooden shoes worn by the poorer class, are not in keeping. There is one town, Vollendam, where the people dress in the old native costume to draw tourists. One day was spent in Brussels, that Belgian city whose beauty rivals that of Paris. A boat-trip down the Rhine gave her a glimpse of Germany. She had time for a visit to the Cologne cathedral and picturesque Coblenz.

Switzerland seemed to be the favorite with Miss MacKellar. It was quite as she imagined it, Lake Luzerne and the Alps as high. Because Olympic tryouts were being held at Lucerne, she had an opportunity to see a great many of the young Swiss athletes dressed in holiday attire. A trip into the ice cavern under the Rhone glacier gave her a new experience.

At this point, before she had taken her audience through Italy and France and home again the rude sound of the noon bell brought her story to a close. Judging by the applause, Miss MacKellar's listeners enjoyed the trip almost as much as she did.

CHANGES IN GRADE SCHOOL

Several changes have been made in the grade school during the last two weeks.

Due to the overcrowding of the first grade, the group has been divided and part of the children put in the opportunity room. A new teacher is to be hired for them.

The old kindergarten room has been fixed up for a music and art classroom where Mrs. Loomis will meet all of her classes hereafter.

The opportunity room has been put down in the old art room, and supplies have been ordered for the manual training class, which is to be open only to the opportunity room pupils.

Miss Helen Leonardson, graduate of Western State Teachers' College(is the new first grade teacher.

Owing to the large number of pupils enrolled, the first grade has been divided into two sections, Miss Campbell retaining one and Miss Leonardson teaching the other.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET

Girl Scout meetings have been arranged for every two weeks in the present kindergarten room. Every other week the girls who are working on their first class test are to meet. The girls working on their tenderfoot and second class tests will meet as stated above.

The meetings are to be held from 3:45 to 4:45 Tuesday and any girl in school over ten years old may attend. A meeting for the younger girls was held October 16.

GIRLS START PRACTICE

The girls had their first basket ball practice Monday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. About twenty girls came out under the direction of Miss Hyde.

Class Decides Autos Do More Harm Than Good

"Resolved, That automobiles do more harm than good" was question debated recently by the Public Speaking class. Strange as it may seem the affirmative won. The affirmative offered railroads and airplanes as a remedy.

The members of the affirmative team were, Phillo McCulley, Elroy Edwards, and Louise Perry. Those of the negative were, Virla Jean McCafferty, Francis Miller, and Rosetta Cairns. The decision was rendered by Miss Ingalls, the teacher.

THEMES SHOW TYPE OF FRESHMEN WORK

The following themes have been selected by Miss MacKellar from a group of Freshman themes to show the type of work being done in English 9.

An Attic

The room was dark and smelled very musty. The old boxes piled high in the corners were covered with dust collected through many years of uselessness.

The one little window in the south was covered with cobwebs.

The floor creaked as I moved across it.

From the ceiling in front of men hung a large black spider on a thin web. An old model which had long been forgotten stood in the corner covered with a once white cloth. Rats scurried to their holes at the sound of my approaching footsteps. The whole room was cold and the dark roughly hewn beams added to its gloominess.

A Morning In October

It was a pleasant morning in October, the red and yellow leaves were being blown carelessly to the ground by a light breeze. The ground was cluttered with leaves, seeming to be spread like a yellow carpet with touches of red. A tree which stood apart from the rest, looked haggard and old, from the way the branches drooped, leafless and the blue sky, with white clouds floating by, formed a perfect background for the trees.

In the foreground the backstop, goalposts and cold gray bars of the playground all seemed to have touches of sadness about them. Probably it was all caused by the approach of Winter.

—Doris Reavette.

NOTES AT RANDOM

Mr. Rohrer must be stretching the truth or else he has an airplane to use over the week end because he said he went to his home in New York City over Saturday and Sunday. Evidently some of the teachers are skeptical of the Latch-Key reporters for they don't take us into their confidence.

All the rest of the teachers said they were going to the Teachers' Institute in reply to the question "What are you going to do over the week end?" Miss Hyde went to the home-coming at East Lansing last Saturday. Miss Ingalls attended the football game at Columbus, O. Miss MacKellar visited at her home in Ypsilanti for the week end.

Philo McCully, Virla Jean McCafferty, and Winifred Seeley are the alternates on the debating team.

The orchestra is scheduled to make its first appearance Thursday at the P. T. A. meeting.

The Juniors received their pins and rings Wednesday.

Kathryn Banfield has returned to school after her operation for appendicitis. She has not been attending classes on the second floor as she is not able to go upstairs yet.

William Starkey, '28, is the new janitor in the grade building. He was on the teams last year which won the basketball and golf championships.

"F H S" PENCILS ARRIVE

Blue and white pencils which were ordered by the Student Council have arrived and may be procured from the slot machine in the hall for 5 cents. The pencils are blue and have "Farmington High School" printed on them in silver.

SALES RECORDS BROKEN!

All sales records were broken recently when Eileen Lapham and Olive Grimwade sold a total of 60 packages of Sal-O-Jell. They canvassed the east end of town and as far west as Grace street.

GRID TEAM TAKES ITS FIRST DEFEAT AT WAYNE, 13 TO 6

For the last three years Wayne has defeated Farmington in football, last year by a 13-7 score and the "jinx" still seems to be hanging on, as Farmington lost the game last Friday, 13-6.

The Wayne team outweighed our men an average of about 10 to 15 pounds apiece. Both teams were badly handicapped because of the rain, which made the game one of sliding and splashing rather than running. In the last quarter Farmington made its only touchdown on a forward pass from Cox to Turner. Wayne made a touchdown in the third and another in the fourth quarter, both on forward passes.

The date of the game at Plymouth was shifted to Wednesday, October 24.

TWO NEW FORMATIONS SHOWN TO GIRL SCOUTS BY CATHERINE STORMS

Two formations were taught to the new Scouts by Catherine Storms at the meeting Tuesday. One was the "Horseshoe" formation, and the other was "Squad" formation. During the latter a formation inspection was held.

These formations are used to open the meetings. Every Scout is supposed to live up to a standard in cleanliness. After the salute to the flag has been given the girls are inspected to see if they are up to the standard. Some of the points watched are clean fingernails and ears, and no holes in the stockings.

The work taken up included the laws in the Tenderfoot test, and the history of the American Flag in the second class.

A relay started a contest between the patrols which is to run for five weeks. Each girl lined up in the patrol she was in and then when her turn came she ran up to the board and wrote down one of the Girl Scout laws. Patrol No. 3 won.

"Taps," a formal ending for all Scout meetings, was taught.

H. S. SOCIAL COMMITTEE WILL ARRANGE DANCES FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Ola Whitney, senior member of the Social Committee, has been appointed secretary and Winifred Seeley, junior representative, treasurer of the Social Committee. Miss Miel, Social committee chairman, made the appointments.

The Committee has made plans for matinee dances to be given on Fridays after the football season has closed. Those who can dance are expected to volunteer to teach those who wish to learn.

It has been decided that the next all-High School party to be sponsored by the Committee will be a Christmas party.

COUNCIL DECISION IS AGAINST A YEAR-BOOK

A Student Council meeting was held last Monday at which the football pennants were shown to the members. They are to be sold by the Council at 25 cents each.

It was decided that there would be no annual, as the members each gave their opinion on it, three voting "yes" and four "no."

It was suggested that a small book containing most of the things usually found in annuals, but on cheaper paper be substituted.

The constitution has been completed and was read by Helen Westfall.

PROGRAM ON "CORRECT INTRODUCTIONS" GIVEN

The tea that was to have been given Thursday by the Girl League Council has been postponed. Instead a program was given in the assembly room to which the mothers were invited.

The program, based on the subject of correct introductions, was planned by a committee composed of Esther Seeley, Dorothy Talbot and Melba Keech. Virginia Adams, Winifred Seeley and Eleanor Perry illustrated the correct forms of introductions and Eileen Lapham gave a short talk.

SEEKING SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Seniors are working to get subscriptions for the Farmington Enterprise, receiving a percentage of the price for both new and renewal subscriptions.

Rev. Schoen is lending his barn to the Seniors for storing their papers, for which the Seniors are very grateful.
