dents of the state home for feebleminded in Lapeer.

That the Gwinn's hardware store gets results from newspaper advertising such as this: "What could be nicer than a home complete; where you go to the privy without wetting your feet." Could it be that Mr. Gwinn has heard "Oklahoma"?

That the betting at the state capitol is ten to one that the state treasury will have a red-ink deficit by the end of the coming fiscal year. Legislators are not tax-minded; rural vs. city antagonism is at the root of the differences.

That the Hastings Manufacturing Company, makers of piston rings, is now operating only four days a week due to the lack of orders. About 100 workers have been laid off. Another recession sign: The Dow Chemical Company at Midland also has a top-heavy inventory and is slowing down production.

That both General Electric and Packard, which recently granted wage boosts, are now increasing prices once more.

That the Royal trailer coach factory at Hastings, founded in 1940, is now turning out 12 to 14 handmade trailers each week; that the trailer is 21 or 24 feet in length, is virtually a custom-made cabin on two wheels; that the price for the 21 - foot model (which we inspected at Hastings the other day) is $1,995 including an electric refrigerator, license plates and taxes; that two-door trailers are best for safety; that we're going to stick to an old fashioned tent for a while.

That the state legislature is really going to adjourn soon. We're told, June 6.

That there is a real slump in the liquor business; that 500 bartenders are out of work in old Chicago and 600 of the city's 6,000 saloons are reported ready to fold up; that folks are just not buying fancy, high-priced wine any more.

That Michigan ranked second in work time lost due to strikes; fifth in number of strikes, and ninth in number of labor disputes before the NLRB. No, we're not bragging.

That the guzzling of canned fruit juice is 271 per cent over pre-war. Ain't statistics wonderful!

That the fair employment practice commission bill, now shelved by the senate labor committee, was rejected by the Illinois legislature for the second time in two years. Instead of solving the problem of racial prejudice, the anti-discrimination scheme would stir up trouble, so Illinois legislators are convinced.

That federal government economists insist a bond bought today will be worth 10 to 20 percent more a year from now — that is in buying power. Buy a bond!

That Harvey Campbell, the Motor City's ace toastmaster, thinks Mackinac Island is missing a good bet by not dramatizing its blacksmith shop. "Millions of kids have never seen a practical, working smithy", says Harvey.

That the lobbyists have never been more influential with legislators than during the 1947 Sigler session at Lansing; the governor even called in Wilfred F. "Bill" Doyle for advice the other day. Honest!

That if you glimpse someone on the street with a full-fledged beard, chances are 100 to 1 that he is from Traverse City. The cherryland capital is celebrating its centennial in July. And if you don't have a Gay Nineties beard, you're in the dog house.

That 30,000 fewer farmers in Michigan, plus 40,000 tractors, produced 35 per cent more food between 1940 and 1945. The value of Michigan dairy products jumped from $51.5 to $121 millions in the same way; poultry, 16.7 to 38.5 millions.

That 60 per cent of the cost of building a home is due to labor; that wage costs in the building business have gone up 78 per cent since 1940.

That 20 per cent of families in these prosperous U. S. A. earn less than $1,000 a year; 40 per cent do not have an automobile; 50 per cent of all farm homes lack electricity.

NEXT-OF-KIN TO DECIDE ON GI DEAD REBURIAL

The War Department has begun the distribution of questionnaires to next-of-kin of all deceased servicemen asking their desire as to the disposition of remains of the nation's war dead.

Next-of-kin will have four options.

1. That the remains be interred in a permanent American military cemetery overseas;

2. That the remains be returned to the United States for interment by next-of-kin in a private cemetery;

3. That remains be shipped within, or returned to a foreign country, the homeland of the deceased or next-of-kin, for interment there by next-of-kin in a private cemetery;

4. That the remains be returned to the United States for final interment in a national cemetery.

Inquiries concerning the disposition of the deceased should be addressed by next-of-kin to the following addresses:

Army and attached civilians — Office of the Quartermaster-General, Memorial Division, War Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Navy — Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Marine Corps — Commandant, U. S. Marine Corps, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

has repaid 13 millions; still has 30 millions in the bank.

More will be needed to carry out Aleman's six-year plan, which includes increased irrigation and power facilities—two TVA's will be constructed, Mexican style.

Mexico is an agricultural country without too much arable soil; she needs to raise more to feed herself properly. To do this will require six times as many irrigated acres as at present.

The joint statement also indicated that the two presidents were working out an arrangement to stabilize exchange which would permit Mexico to buy American dollars when she needs them to buy American goods, and sell them back when she can spare them. In wartime, when she was selling us more than she was buying, she built up a supply of dollars. But now she's buying more from us than she's selling to us. By allowing her to buy dollars at the rate of five pesos to the dollar, Mexico's money will be kept stable—otherwise individuals might start hoarding up the dollar, which would decrease the value of the peso.

What did it add up to? Good sense between good neighbors who want to continue to be good customers. Mexico is farther to the left politically than we are, but it is by no means one hundred per cent socialist.

The following categorical statement was made recently by Alejandro Carrillo, vice governor of the Federal district (which corresponds to the District of Columbia, U. S. A.):

"The government believes that a system of economical coordination should be put into effect. 'Coordination' really would be the most appropriate term to use, because we will not have free enterprise alone; nor will we have planning in a rigid sense of the word. We have government-owned public utility companies, and at the same time, we have government-sponsored industries in which private capital participates. But I would say that free enterprise constitutes the backbone of Mexican economic life and will do so in the next six years."

It appears that Aleman's brand of democracy is near enough to ours to make him the good neighbor we Washingtonians who met him think he is.
