Veterans Urged To Apply Early For Schooling

Michigan veterans who plan to start school this fall under the Korean GI Bill are urged by the Veterans Administration to apply for their papers before school terms begin. By applying for their VA certificates prior to admission, veterans will help to prevent delay in the processing of their papers as it is predicted that a record-breaking number of veterans will begin schooling for the first time this fall.

VA's manager for Michigan pointed out that the need for applying for initial papers pertains only to those veterans who are starting training under the GI Bill programs for the first time.

It is estimated that several thousand veterans in Michigan will enroll this fall for the first time in colleges and universities.

CHILDREN IN CAR

There are four precautions that should always be taken when children are riding in the car. Be sure that children's feet and hands are in the clear when closing car windows. Avoid "falling out" accidents by locking car doors. See that children stay safely seated at all times when the car is in motion. Take measures to see that children do not put head or arms out of open windows.
