MEN MAY OBTAIN CWA JOBS BY FEBRUARY 15

to get men to work, "anything went," and although many projects have already been approved for starting after February 15, some aspects of the handling of the work may be substantially altered.

For one thing, it is believed that the cost estimates will be thoroughly reviewed by headquarters authorities and a re-check of every job, as to labor estimate, may occur. It is reported that the CWA officials believe that all of the labor estimates have been too low, and desire to check on this phase.

Still Await Work

As to the possibility of men not yet blessed with CWA jobs, it is generally known and commented upon that the distribution of jobs has not met with entire satisfaction—that many citizens with the best kind of claims to consideration have not yet ben aided by CWA work. There are, for instance, home-owners, who have paid taxes for years and still struggle to do so, who have been out of work for months and even years, yet have not reached the stage of asking welfare help and whose pride would prevent them from doing so unless driven to the last extremity. These men point out that they deserve work as well as any and that, if anything, they have a better claim than many others because they still own property and as taxpayers will be called on to share eventually the cost of CWA. They feel that the mere fact that they have not asked for welfare aid has mitiated against their getting work on the CWA instead of in their favor as they believe it should.

Water Project Problem

A problem in costs is faced by officials in connection with the project of extending Detroit City water to schools in Clarenceville. The labor item will. it is has been found, run far in excess of estimates made when the project was filed and approved. After it had been approved and before work was begun, it was discovered that requirements of the Detroit Water Department would necessitate a far greater volume of labor that had been calculated. Detroit regulations require water mains to be laid at least six feet below surface, and the eight inches of pipe diameter made a total depth of six feet. eight inches, instead of the four-foot trench originally planned. The mains have been laid at the greater depth and that to the Edgewood School has been completed, but the question of funds is yet to be decided.

THERESA NEUMANN
The Stigmatist of Konnersrueth Germany

The story of her remarkable life will be told in Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church next Wednesday, February 7, 1934, at 8:00 p. m. by the Rev. Henry J. Kaufmann of Detroit, who visited Konnessrueth in 1922 and again in 1931. Before 1923 Konnersrueth was scarcely known beyond the county boundaries; since then it has became a household word in every land on the globe; millions of children are able to spell it. All on account of Theresa Neumann, a peasant's daughter, who does not eat or drink nor sleep since 1927. Yet she lives, she works and enjoys good health. She is marked with two wounds of the Savior. On Fridays Theresa is lifted up like St. Paul into ecstacy and in that state she sees our Lord suffering; she suffers with Him and dies with his mystically. During the Friday experience she loses 8 to 12 pounds and without taking any food or liquid she regains her weight, usually by Sunday morning. You may have read her life's story; it will be a real treat to lister to Rather Kaufmann's account of what he saw and heard on his visite at Konnersreuth. Everybody welcome.

ATTORNEY TO SPEAK

Attorney John C. Winters of Detroit will occupy the pulpit of the Baptist Church Sunday night, February 4th, at 7:30. This Christian lawyer, travels all over the middle west preaching on vital Bible questions as viewed by an attorney. Two years ago he spoke in Farmington on "The Trial of Jesus as seen from the Lawyer's Point of View." Those who heard him asked for his return. We are glad he can come at this time. His subject will be "Jesus Christ or Christ Jesus—The Duty of Christ as seen from the Lawyer's View-point."

The public is invited to be present and have a part in this service.

The Boy Scouts went on a hike last Saturday. About fourteen or fifteen tests were passed in cooking, fire-building, tracking, pacing and use of knife and hatchet. At each meeting the boys are working hard on the First Aid Stunt for the Annual Round Up at Pontiac, February 16. Boy Scout meetings have been changed from Wednesday to Monday nights.
