The Garden Tea given last Friday by Agnes Wright to raise funds for the new Monastery of the Blessed Sacrament was a most successful affair. How glad we were to see the sun break through the clouds at 2 o'clock! Some thousand women enjoyed the beautiful grounds, the delicious refreshments, and visiting friends. Some had come from Dearborn, from Ohio, and even from Canada, proving the Monastery has many friends.

Betty Brown gave a shower for Mary Jo Fisher last week Tuesday. Her house was lovely with many floral arrangements done by Theresa McKay. We all thought the Angels Trumpets, common name for Datura arborea, on the piano were beautiful and most appropriate. Theressa also made corsages for Mary Jo, Grace, Mrs. Andrews, the groom's mother, and Betty. Ruth Weaver had worked out an interesting game of scrambled letters for us to solve by unscrambling them into names of famous pairs of lovers. There were very nice prizes for the four winners.

The Tenneys took the children down to West Virginia to leave them with the paternal grandparents while they went on a three week trip to Europe with friends from the south. While in New York City they found time for an evening at Saito's - a new Japanese restaurant where you sit on the floor and your meal is cooked right in front of you. They had a very delightful trip over - such a good time in fact that they failed to think of the time change and the sun rose at 2 a.m. our time so they didn't get much sleep. They stayed at Grosvenor House in the West End of London and did the city quite thoroughly. They then flew across the Channel to Paris. The outstanding event in the short time they had there was a four-hour boat trip up the Seine. The trip was brought to a sad end by a cablegram that Mac's father had died suddenly of a cerebral hemorrhage. Mac and Pat left their friends to finish the tour and they took the first non-stop flight back to Idlewild and West Virginia. The funeral was held last Thursday. All in Wood Creek extend sympathy.

The Gollas, Ruth, Rudy and Dale, are back from a six-day trip East. They went via the New York thruway to Boston where they spent Saturday night at the Statler, attended church the next morning, did a little sightseeing and headed up the coast taking in Marblehead, Gloucester, where the boys spent quite a bit of time looking at sail boats. Then on up the coast as far as Bar Harbor. Of course they ate lobster several times - after struggling with boiled lobsters a couple of times they were glad to find a lobster salad is very delicious and much less work. They reached home last Thursday night after an all too short trip.

June Bicker has her family all together again. Sue, and her cousin, Nancy Gary of Detroit, had been visiting the grandparents at Five Lakes, near Washburn, Wis. June took the boys out with her and they stayed a couple of weeks to have time for a good visit and plenty of fishing. While June was away Bob lost seven pounds - perhaps because he didn't have June's good meals, but he says because he played so much golf. One day he played in the Dealers Golf Tournament at Hillcrest Country Club and won some very nice prizes - two beautiful sport shirts, a golf cap, and best of all, the Trophy Cup for the Worlds Greatest Lover! Last Saturday night Bob and June were the guests of a brother-in-law, George Wood, at the Detroit Yacht Club for Venetian Night. Sunday they had the newlywed Glasbys out for dinner. A cousin, Chris Black, and husband, Jim, dropped in to say goodbye before leaving for Europe the first week in September, so they, too, were there for Sunday dinner.

Long Time Detroit Edison Man Dead

Norman Bruce Murray, 29204 Dresden, died Aug. 15 in Harper Hospital, Detroit, from a heart condition.

He was born in Detroit Sept. 12, 1905, the son of Samuel and Matilda (Jednackowski) Murray and had been employed by the Detroit Edison Company for 34 years.

Mr. Murray leaves one son, John N. Murray of California; one brother, Thomas J. Murray of Detroit, and one sister, Mrs. Edna Klenke of Texas.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday from the Spencer J. Heeney Funeral Home with Rev. Carl H. Schultz of the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, officiating.

Interment was in Grand Lawn cemetery, Detroit.

WALLS FOR THE NEW Farmington elementary school being constructed on Power Road at Alameda are finally going up. This may well be labeled "the school of many delays." It was originally planned to build a third grade school to be completed this fall, around the same time as the Cloverdale and Kenbrooke elementary schools. The first snag came when a new site had to be decided upon. It was first planned to build the school on a site east of Middlebelt Road between 11 and 12 Mile Roads. These plans were abandoned, however, when difficulties were encountered in obtaining an easement to the site and an announcement was made shortly afterward that the site was directly in the path of a proposed east-west expressway route. More delays were encountered when the present site was found to have poor percolation and that a self contained septic system would not be possible. An agreement was finally reached to tie the school's sewer lines into the City of Farmington system. School officials have indicated that the building will not be ready now for any portion of the coming school year.

Marlene Theobald, GR. 4-9645 Harriet Pell, GR. 4-8679

Sympathy is extended to the Redner Family of Cass Court in the death of Arthur D. Redner who died Aug. 14 in Mexico City after a long illness. Mr. Redner was founder and retired president of General Filters, Inc., of Novi. Services were held yesterday here in Farmington.

Last Sunday the Thumm family entertained a group of friends at supper in their backyard on Cass Court. Mildred showed colored slides taken on her recent European trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mecklenburg of Fleming Drive just returned from several days in New York City.

The Oscar Kleins of Hamlin Court attended a 3rd annual Klein family reunion Sunday, Aug. 17 at Marshbank Park at Cass Lake. Forty-nine persons enjoyed the day together, one coming from Cleveland, Ohio. The oldest present was 84 while the youngest was 4½ months.

The William Yochum family of Hamlin Court is home after a two week motor trip. They visited relatives in Milwaukee and Beghs Lake, Wis., and then toured the upper peninsula. They reported ideal vacation weather — no rain for 14 days.

Just loafing, sunning and swimming made for a happy vacation for the Nagy family. Al, Ingrid and the girls are home after two weeks at Fenwick Island, Md.

The Mosshamers had Ed's brother Sam and family from Grand Rapids visiting for a couple of days. Just before they left, two friends of Ed's from New York City arrived for a two day stay.

The John Ross family of Alta Loma have been coming and going of late. JoAnn and friend Elenor Mienker just returned from a vacation in Florida. As fate would have it (fortunately), the hotel they had originally placed their reservations with (Cherie Frontenec) was full and sent them to Miami's newest luxurious "Deauville" which has an ice skating rink and nine hole golf course, which led to a wonderful two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keily of Moore Drive spent the weekend at the home of Carol's parents in Lansing.

The Ken Theobalds spent Sunday at Walters Lake for a gathering of the Brendle clan and water skiing was the main event of the day.

The Gates on Moore Drive attended an Hawaiian party at Meadowbrook Country Club, Saturday evening. Lil was very authentic in her white hula outfit and King in his loud sport shirt. The Wiseleys also attended the affair.

A pair of brown shell rim eye glasses were found two weeks ago on Nagy's driveway on Moore Drive. Owner please call Nagy residence.
