THIS IS THE GENERAL FILTERS PLANT AS IT APPEARS TODAY.

Complete New Expansion At General Filter, Inc.

General Filters, Inc., whose president Mrs. Grace Redner has been a long-time resident of Farmington, has just completed extensive expansion at its Novi plant.

The company has been in business in the area for the past 26 years engaged in the manufacturing of filters for fuel oil systems and industrial use.

MRS. REDNER ASSUMED the firm's top management role following the death of her husband, the late A.D. Redner. She has two sons who take an active role in the business as vice presidents.

An increased volume of business coupled with the addition of several new lines of products gave rise to the latest expansion which is the sixth such move by the company since it was founded in 1937.

Sales Manager Jack Christian is credited with much of the boost in production at General Filters.

THE COMPANY IS now considered a leader in the production of filters for all types of fuel oil burners, having pioneered in the field. General Filters was one of the first to engineer quality filters for every specific heating and installation need in homes, business, offices, and public buildings.

Since 1946, Canadian General Filters Limited in Toronto, Ontario has been engaged in the manufacture of General Filters products for Canadian use. Among heating contractors and dealers in Canada, General Fuel Oil Filters enjoy an overwhelming preference, outselling all other makes combined.

During the war years, the Company was one of the principal suppliers of filters for use in aircraft. The plant still is a major producer of industrial filters for hydraulic and lubricating systems and central reservoirs for paints, lacquer and similar liquids.

General Filters, Inc. has maintained a fine record of progressive technological advancement to remain abreast of its field and has consistently introduced new and better products to serve its customers.

The company now produces quality humidifiers for domestic warm air furnaces, as well as other accessories. Work is constantly going on to improve and perfect their complete line of fuel oil filters.

AFS Benefit Dance Called Big Success

The Meadowbrook Country Club was the setting for a lovely display of Farmington ladies dressed for an "Evening Gala." The music by the Jerry Feeby-Five was all that it was expected to be. And the work of art created by Mrs. Blaine Ford, displaying the American Field Service Eagle Emblem was awe inspiring.

Of special interest to the guests was the introduction of the two foreign students currently participating in the AFS International Scholarship Program at Farmington High School. Misses Siti Affandi from Indonesia and Mickey Duym from Belgium, accompanied by their American Sisters, Misses Kris Hendee and Cinda Parsons, and the Presidents of the two Students' Exchange Clubs, Miss Judy Porter, Farming High School and Miss Janet Lam, North Farmington High School.

THE FIFTY WOMEN of the Farmington community who have devoted time and energy in making the arrangements and promoting this affair for the benefit of the two Farmington Chapters of AFS have earned a hearty "Well Done!" The attendance at the dance was more than ample proof that the members of this community consider the scholarship program a worthwhile endeavor.

The list of people who bought tickets and could not attend the dance is incomplete; a grateful appreciation is extended to these contributors.

And the Chapters would like to acknowledge the personal contributions made in lieu of ticket purchases by the following people Messrs. and Mmes. J.G. Thomas, William Livingston, E.R. Steggles, Peter A. Weller, A. Robert Barragato, John A. Kinghorn, William W. Fletcher, John Wolf, John F. Murphy, Nelson Farley, Roy M. Nelson, Robert C. Baxter, David Witmer, Harold Preuss, Achlin M. Kaake, Milton A. Damaschke, Stan Thorpe, George J. Candrono, Geo. Hathwart, Harry Smithem, John W. Othem, Robert Lindbert, Warren Bopp, Lee McCoy, Leonard Wilhelm, William Benson, George Sirko, George Brown, William May, Sidney Albrecht, Dr. and Mrs. John Birmingham, and Mrs. Doris Lazar.

It is felt that when the final computations are made and the proceeds distributed each of the Farmington High Schools will receive an impressive boost toward the amount needed to support a student for the coming year.

Nursery Slates WSU Speaker

Dr. Esther Callard, Director of the Home Economics Nursery School, Wayne State University, will speak Monday, May 13, at 8 p.m. at the Church of Our Savior Nursery School, 6655 Middlebelt Road.

Her topic "Guidance vs. Punishment" is most timely. This is an open meeting and all who are interested are invited to attend.

DR. CALLARD HAS been in the field of Nursery School Education for several years and has spent time studying family relationships and behavior patterns in many countries in the Far East.

Registration for the fall term at Church of Our Savior Nursery School is now open. Classes are held three mornings a week. This is not a co-op school.

Longacre PTA To Hear School Library Needs

An outstanding meeting has been planned for this evening at Longacre Elementary School. The general theme will be "The Library in the Elementary Schools."

The P.T.A. has invited two speakers in this field — Mrs. Mildred Droege of the Farmington District Library, and Dr. Harry T. Hahn, Director of Instruction at the Oakland County Board of Education.

MRS. DROEGE IS a graduate of Simmons College in Boston. She spent 12 years at the New York Public Library and two years at the Children's Library in Detroit. The rest of the time she has been in Farmington.

Dr. Harry T. Hahn received his masters and doctors degrees from Temple University in Philadelphia, Penn. For ten years he was Director of the Reading Study Clinic at LeHigh University in Bethlehem, Penn.

HE HAS BEEN a visiting professor of education during summer sessions at The University of Florida, University of Delaware, Michigan State University, University of Michigan and Adams State College in Colorado.

His other activities include being a past president of the Michigan Reading Ass'n, and a member of the National Committee on diagnostic reading tests. He has also been Book Review Editor for "Reading Teacher" magazine.

At the close of the program, Mr. David Saari will direct the Longacre Select Choir in a very short program of entertainment, followed by refreshments.

Farmington Acres News

MARGE STOCK GR. 6-3489 — IRENE WALKER GR. 6-2530

Flanders and the Acres welcome newcomers George and Jeanette Browne and their two daughters, who moved here recently from Royal Oak. The Brownes are originally from New York, arriving in Michigan via Rhode Island. Their little girls are Suzanne, 3, and Terri, four months. George is a teacher at The Detroit Country Day School.

This week was First Communion Sunday for many youngsters in the subdivision. Elaine Jankowski, daughter of Helen and Norbert Jankowski of Laurelwood was the only girl in The Acres who made her First Holy Communion at Our Lady of Sorrows Church last Sunday. On hand to celebrate the event were Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Burbach of Newberry, Mich., and Mrs. Anna Jankowski of Detroit. Other relatives included Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Jankowski and family from Royal Oak, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Paczas of Birmingham, Mr. and Mrs. Rachoza of Redford, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jankowski of Detroit.

STEVEN BRUNETTE, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brunette of Birchwood, celebrated his First Communion with a dinner with guests; Mr. and Mrs. Reese of Chicago, (Steven's great aunt and uncle), Tom and Mary Lou Michaels and children, Mr. and Mrs. Zollars and children, and Jim Anderson and sons.

Thomas Pidgeon, youngest son of Clare and Ted Pidgeon of Flanders, was delighted to have his uncle, aunt, and cousins, the Tom Lanvin family, from Richmond, Virginia, on hand to celebrate his First Holy Communion.

Donald Hartwig, son of Werner and Marge Hartwig of Annewood, was the 20th grandchild his maternal grandmother had seen receive First Holy Communion. Mrs. Clara Mahivre, and paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Karl Hartwig, were among the forty guests of the Hartwigs who enjoyed his celebration dinner.

Charles Blatz, son of Bud and "Pooch" Haas of Meadowlark and Terry Blatz, son of Barb and Elmer Blatz, also of Meadowlark, were among the First Communicants at Our Lady of Sorrows. Because their relatives live so far away, they celebrated their day with their immediate families.

VICKI ARMSTRONG, daughter of Jack and Nadine Armstrong, of Meadowlark Court, was hostess to a group of friends at a Cinderalla Birthday Party Saturday afternoon. Vicki's ninth birthday was highlighted with "Glass Slipper" favors, and Cinderella placemats. Her guests enjoyed refreshments, games and prizes. They were Jay Sparks, Linda Hanifan, Gail Kregoski, Sherri Chastain, Pat Mascow, Margaret Walker, and brother Mark Armstrong.

David Haas, son of Pooch and Bud Haas of Meadowlark, entertained his entire kindergarten class (39 in all) at a birthday party Saturday celebrating his sixth year.

Birthday felicitations go to Johnny Lenane, who turned four last week, Elaine Jankowski, who is now eight, and Kevin Burd, who also celebrated his eighth birthday this week.

Lynn Stock will sit at the Speaker's table tonight at the Annual President's dinner at the Hotel Fort Wayne prior to the "Future Unlimited" Celebration of Junior Achievement. Her proud grandmother, Mrs. Mary McDougall, will be there to hear her speech.

Lou Grenier was hostess last Wednesday to her monthly bridge club. Enjoying cards at Lou's Laurelwood home were Lee Justice, Nadine Armstrong, Jean Osborne, Ginny Oakes, Betty Bottle, Emmaline Maritz and Delores Springmeier. Betty Bottle won first prize, sub Nadine Armstrong won booby prize and Delores Springmeier won booby.

Carol Knowlton was Bridge Club Number One's hostess for May. Players included Polly Lawshe, Grace Mitchell, Joyce Green, Laurie Bosse, Nadine Armstrong, Joanne McCririe, and Irene Walker. The subs walked off with top prizes, Nadine Armstrong winning first and Jeanne McCririe winning second. Grace Mitchell won the coveted booby prize.

Bridge Club No. 2 met at the Flanders home of Mickey Eansor. Regular members playing were Joanne McCririe, Barb Adams, Pat Thibadeau, Joan Friedman, Janet Streng, Arline Strane, and Nan Held. Winners were; First prize, Joan Friedman, 2nd prize, Joanne McCririe and Booby prize Arline Strane.

Ginny and Bill Oakes, Lee and Clint Justice, Jean and Ken Osborne, and Lou and Bob Grenier, all of Laurelwood, enjoyed their monthly bridge game last Saturday night. Lee Justice held high cards for the evening.

Elaine Flynn was hostess to her Pinochle group last week. Players were Marion Gilson, Angela Mateno, Kay Thomas, Mary Lou Dinon, and Polly Lawshe.

Charley's Aunt Labeled A Hit

Everyone at the Farmington Players Barn last weekend seemed to break up and unbend with laughter. For "Charley's Aunt," the old rocking-horse farce that dates from 1892, was being played as exuberantly as a man could expect.

Without over-doing the farce, Mrs. Fred Hamilton, director, has caught a nice accent of knowing enjoyment which acknowledges the hokum of the plot, yet savors the knock-about humor that lies in it.

The subject matter of this antique comedy should be pretty well known to everybody who ever went to a theater, for "Charley's Aunt" has been played more times, according to statisticians, than any play except "Hamlet" — "Charley's Aunt" proved last weekend to be actually refreshing.

DICK MANNING showed us a prankish, mischievous and undismayed "aunt" without a trace of shyness. Dick is capably supported by Bob Thomas, Dennis Broadhead, Bob Shaw, Mrs. James Smallegan, Bonnie Goeman, Mrs. Franklin Sullivan, Mrs. William Sulisbury, Jim Tully and Ron Jackson.

In addition to being farce, it is a commentary on the manners and morals of a stilted, unnatural and, through our eyes, foolish age.

Everybody always has loved "Charley's Aunt" and always will love this fabulous comedy hit that's so fresh and funny.

You will spend a screwball evening that spins happily under its own dementia.

Tickets are now on sale at the Barn located on 12 Mile Road at the north end of Powers Road. Box office hours are Monday through Friday 7:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Box office phone 474-9787.

Welsby's House of Music located in downtown Farmington, also have tickets on sale during their open hours.

This weekend performances start May 10 and run the 11th and 12th. Curtain time, Friday and Saturday 8:30 p.m., Sunday 7:30 p.m.
