ROLLING DOWN THE RIVER

By Bob Kettler

A teacher in one of the local bastions of public learning drove her '48 Studebaker in for a fall tune-up and lube change the other day. Seems our school folk have their problems, too. "Why only the other day," she tells us, "a mother of one of the puplis comes bouncing in the classroom to ask me to explain a mark of 'unsatisfactory' her darling had received in arithmetic." "Why," says the indignant mother, "just the other day you told me that Freddie was a problem child."

• • •

We hope you noticed the item on the front page of the local Sunday newspaper. Seems that some lug in Illinois won a marathon driving contest in his 1947 STUDEBAKER by getting 134.10 miles per gallon of gasoline over a 14 mile course. Now for months and months and months we've been telling you the marvelous Studebaker will give you twenty to twenty-four miles per gallon. A masterpiece of understatement; like saying the Grand Canyon is a nice little ditch. Trouble is, we're scared to talk more miles per gallon. Suppose we said forty miles and one of you only got 36. Most likely toss the car right back in our kisser.

• • •

Every once in a while we run into some guy who will boastfully admit he has never made a mistake. Reminds us of an old maid aunt. She marked her mince pies "TM"—"tis mince" and her apple pies "TM" — "taint mince"—and as long as we knew her, she never made a mistake, either.

• • •

We know a stenographer who came to work with a black eye. Told her curious boss it was from defense work.

• • •

Well, here we go again. When are you going to bring your car in for a fall and winter check-up? Soon it's Thanksgiving and you'll have eaten too much; then Christmas and you spent too much on gifts; then it's January and you're walking. Better have our mechanics put it in winter driving shape right now . . . and know that you are safer no matte, what the weather.

We've been wondering . . . if a gal marries and then divorces her husband in a week . . . was she taking his name in vain?

Yours,
BOB KETTLER
