

A winter walk

Unlike last year's December, this month has been filled with more snow than most of us like to bargain with as is illustrated by this scene on Oakland Street.

Energy tips save money

Farmington Hills residents have another opportunity to identify ways to save energy and dollars at an energy conservation open house at East Middle School 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. Residents of the southern section of the city (south of 11 Mile) will have an opportunity to view their thermograms, infrared photos of their homes, that show areas of heat needlessly escaping. The thermograms will be explained by trained interpreters. Homeowners will be able to discuss energy conservation methods with a representative from one of the utility companies. Appointments may be made for an energy audit for which there is a small charge. Refreshments will be served. For further information, call 474-6115, Ext. 277.
