Aunt, Nephew Will Graduate This Year

FARMINGTON
"Is she really your aunt? Isn't she your cousin?" friends ask Ralph MacKenzie, a 17-year old senior at North Farmington High School.

"No, she's not my cousin," answers Ralph, before going into the thousandth explanation of how Janet Haworth, only five months older than him, is his aunt.

Both Janet and Ralph will be graduating from high school in June.

JANET who attends Farmington High School, is the 18-year-old sister of Ralph's mother, Mrs. Barbara MacKenzie.

"Usually, people couldn't figure out where the connection was," said Ralph.

Although they went to different high schools, the aunt and nephew "hung around with the same friends."

JANET AND RALPH belong to a Christian fellowship group which meets Saturday nights in Farmington City Park.

"We all feel that we've found the solution to life—the belief in Jesus Christ," explained Ralph who has attended NFHS for two years.

"I've made many friends," he continued, "but I haven't had much time for school activities." Ralph mentioned that he entered NFHS in the eleventh grade when his family moved from Berkley.

"When we lived in Berkley, we used to visit Janet's house on holidays," continued Ralph. "I was always afraid of him," admitted Janet, who you'd think would wield around her aunty powers.

"Frankly, I resented the fact that she was my aunt," said Ralph. But he valiantly persevered years of continual teasing about his nephew status.

JANET INTERRUPTED

The Winner!

A 1968 survey by the U.S. Forest Service gave this usage ranking for types of siding for single-family homes: Wood products, 46%; bricks, 28%; aluminum, nine; stucco, eight; cement block, five; asbestos, four.

sympathetically saying, "It's ridiculous how he was always teased because he was almost the same age and in the same grade as me."

"I used to feel sorry for him. It wasn't really necessary for him to call me his aunt."

"By the way, if you want to get more confused, I have an uncle who is four years younger than me," mentioned Ralph.

After graduation, Janet hopes to enter the nursing or missionary field.

Ralph, who plans to stay in the Farmington area, has tentative plans to attend a liberal arts college.

"By the way, if you want to get more confused, I have an uncle who is four years younger than me," mentioned Ralph.
