

MUSIC-LAND ENTERTAINERS
 On next Wednesday evening, March 30, under the auspices of the Progressive Class occurs the fifth attraction of the Music-Land Course at which time the Music-Land Entertainers, Mr. and Mrs. William Beek, present a program that is high-class in every particular, featuring vocal and instrumental music that runs from the popular ballads of the day to the very best among the classics. The vocal work of a high order, character impersonations that delight, showmanship that is reflected in every number, a wide variety of instrumental and novelty features, unquestioned ability—these are the things which make the program of The Music-Land Entertainers an evening of bewitching artistry.

In William Beek we have one of the most versatile young artists on the platform. His major work is on cornet and trumpet. He is also a banjo artist of attainment, and a character impersonator of unusual gifts. The "slide trumpet" is a popular novelty which always appeals to his audiences. Mrs. Beek is equally gifted in piano and voice, with a most captivating personality. Her costumed groups are always a delightful feature of The Music-Land Entertainers' program, and possesses a lyric soprano of brilliant timbre. A group of pianologues, cleverly executed, will also be given.

CORN BORER DRIVE STARTS IN STATE
 With word from Washington that the ten million dollar corn borer fund was at last available, state and federal agencies in Michigan have started the great fight to be made this spring against the imported pest.

Three different organizations: the federal department of agriculture, and the Michigan State College, will all have a definite part in the campaign work. Actual control and clean-up work will be under the supervision of the state department, working in close harmony with the federal staff. Educational and demonstrational work will be handled by the extension forces of the College, again in co-operation with the different U. S. department bureaus.

H. C. Rathier, crops specialist on the M. S. C. staff, has been named assistant extension director for Michigan in charge of the educational side of the corn borer campaign. He will be assisted by several specialists and by the county agricultural agents in the 25 counties in the corn borer area. Demonstrations on how best to follow out clean-up practice will be held throughout the area, in order to acquaint farmers with the necessary steps in the work.

"Farmers who do a complete and satisfactory job of cleaning up their fields and yards, burning, destroying or plowing under all corn refuse and stalks in which the corn borer might be hiding, will be reimbursed for the extra labor by the U. S. Government," says Rathier.

"The major part of the ten million dollars recently appropriated will go to the farmers in the infested area of five states: Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania and New York. The farmers of these states, who already have this dangerous pest to deal with, are not being asked to make the battle alone. The whole country, recognizing the corn borer menace as a national emergency, is backing the fight with national resources."

The Michigan counties included in the corn borer area are: Bay, Branch, Calhoun, Genesee, Hillsdale, Huron, Ingham, Jackson, Lapeer, Lenawee, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, Sanilac, Saginaw, Shiawassee, St. Clair, Tuscola, Washtenaw, and Wayne counties; and selected townships in Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties.

A young high school student, whose mother had been sentenced to a western penal institution, left a note saying, "Life is just a laugh," before taking his own life the other day. Just a last despairing attempt at bravery from a heart sick boy who had been forced to face the sum total of human unhappiness. May he find the peace eternal that he sent his soul to seek.

Canada now levies a one dollar tax on every radio, which goes to provide better programs. We'd be in favor of such a law if it would succeed in eliminating the janes who peralats in trying to imitate a child's voice while telling bedtime stories.

Accident That Gave Houdini Life Partner
 A side of Houdini that he kept carefully from the public was his happy domestic life. Years ago, long before he had a reputation, when he was a mere tyro in magic, he gave a magical performance one evening at a club, writes William Johnston in the New York World. He was endeavoring to do the water-tube-wire trick, which is done with acid. He accidentally spilled some of the acid on the dress of a young girl, Beatrice Babner, who was sitting in the front row, ruining it.

"You'll have to get that girl a new dress," his mother told him. "You buy the material and I'll make it for her."

This led Houdini to call at Miss Babner's home to make the necessary arrangements and by the time the new dress was ready for delivery the acquaintance had ripened into love, and their marriage followed shortly.

For thirty-four years Mrs. Houdini was her distinguished husband's constant companion, assistant and inspiration. She traveled all over the world with him, appearing on the stage with him, constantly watchful for his welfare in some of his miraculous feats, when an instant's delay in the carrying out of the plans might have meant serious disaster to the magician.

Radio Beams Direct Aviators to Safety
 Flying "down a radio beam" is the method by which air pilots, especially those in the mail service, may soon find their way in densest weather to their destinations. Until the directive radio beacon was devised by the army air service and put into service at McCook field many a flyer, lost in an area of storm or fog, had to drop dangerously near the ground to get his bearings visually. Crashes sometimes resulted. Now, however, some landing fields are equipped with the beacon. It sends out two directed radio beams, each of which has a characteristic signal. When a flyer crosses one of the beams and approaches the other he can lay a course between the two and remain there by noting the comparative strength of the two signals. Following his path of equal signal strength to the landing field is then comparatively simple.

Made Her Home in Church
 Living in a church in Munich, Bavaria, a woman solved for herself the housing problem. The vergor of the church noticed that she was there regularly daily, and was constantly engaged in prayer near the altar. Becoming suspicious, he examined the altar to see if anything was stolen. He was astonished to find in a recess behind the altar a couple of blankets, a spirit stove, articles of clothing, milk bottles, knives, forks and food.

Theory to Be Tested
 The theory that continents shift gradually over the surface of the earth is about to be tested by radio. Since radio transmission is almost instantaneous, docks around the world can be synchronized by it. This will determine the exact differences in time and therefore of longitude as between specified points in the earth's surface.

Popular Scion of Royalty
 Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria is one of the few deposed rulers of German states who continues to enjoy the confidence of his former subjects. In public functions precedence is given him over all members of the republican government. Rupprecht has never abdicated or renounced his rights to the throne of his fathers.

Blood Never Mixed
 An unusual photograph exhibition was recently opened in Paris, the chief interest in which is in the fact that the subject of the seventy portraits shown is a woman of the French aristocracy whose family has for at least 200 years contracted no marriage with a foreigner.

Must Foster Self-Control
 The sex impulse is part of normal human nature, and the only safeguards against yielding to it wrongfully are self-control and character, builded upon and fostered by right home life and proper religious training—Liberty.

MOST BEAUTIFUL GIRL HEADLINES TEMPLE
 Trina, Spain's foremost artist and most beautiful girl, headlines at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre starting Sunday matinee, March 27. Trini offers a magnificent new dancing act assisted by Louis Baccour's Marimba Band including Alberto Gale and E. Holt. Trini also sings and will be heard in several remarkable character interpretations. Others billed:

Valeria Bergeri and Company in "Chinese Compensation," an intense dramatic playlet by Carl McCullough supported by an excellent cast; Mann Holliner and Alberta Nichols, the lyricist and the composer in a group of their most brilliant plays by Andy Rice called "Education Will Out;" Peter Higgins, America's youngest Irish tenor in a delightful program of song, assisted by Frank

Dixon at the piano; Shaw's sporting dog revue showing a congress of the greatest leaping and racing grey hounds in the world; Wilfrid Du Bois in a series of clever juggling feats and the new screen subjects.

What has become of the old-fashioned bottle of burdock biters that used to put in an appearance in the household about this season of the year?
