MACHINSKI FACES A LIFE TERM

Deputy Sheriff Wilson's Assailant To Be Tried For Attempted Murder

The examination of Florian Machinski charged with assault with intent to kill Deputy Sheriff Claude Wilson near Farmington on March 5 last, was concluded in the municipal court at Pontiac Tuesday and the defendant was bound over to the circuit court for trial.

Deputy Wilson, who appeared as a witness, was discharged from the hospital last week Wednesday. The examination of Machinski was started two weeks ago but was continued as Mr. Wilson was unable to attend as a witness.

On March 5 Deputy Wilson with Deputies McKinley and Cox, went to the Machinski home, near Fourth Gate to execute a search warrant issued out of Justice Schulte's court of this city. When Wilson knocked at the door it was opened by the defendant who thrust the muzzle of a shot gun in the deputy's face and fired, inflicting a serious wound and destroying the right eye.

After a siege of the house lasting several hours Machinski was arrested. A search of the premises revealed many stolen articles some of the articles enumerated in the search warrant.

The maximum penalty for the offense with which Machinski is charged calls for life imprisonment.

Machinski has been arrested several times and has given the officers much trouble. He was at one time arrested by Deputy Wilson and it is said that he had threatened to get him if he ever attempted to arrest him.

LOW BUILDING COSTS FOR POULTRY HOUSES

Michigan shed roof type poultry houses will be built in several counties of the State by a demonstration team from the department of agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

A specialist from the poultry department of the college will also be present at the demonstration meetings to discuss methods of raising, feeding and housing poultry. Two days will be spent at each demonstration. The first day will be devoted largely to actual construction work and the discussions of poultry problems will be taken up on the second day.

The estimated cost for the materials necessary to build the 18 by 20 foot house is $240. This cost includes the cement necessary for foundation and floor, and lumber for ventilators, roosts, dropping boards, nest boxes, and a supply bin. The building will house 100 birds.

The farmer for whom the house is built pays for the lime of the two carpenters who do the construction work and has the foundation for the house built at least a week before the date of the demonstration. After five houses were built by the specialist in the upper peninsula last year, farmers themselves erected 120 of the buildings.

This year poultry houses will be built at demonstrations in Livingston, Oakland, Washtenaw and 23 other counties in the state.

WARNS FARMERS OF FRAUD

The Business Farmer is broadcasting a notice over the state warning farmers to have nothing to do with a man, giving the name of "Everett," who claims to be representing the "Never Idle Poultry Farm," and selling "Never Idle Poultry Tonic." Reports of his nefarious activities have come in from various sections of the state. The "Tonic" which he sells to the farmers is supposed to kill lice on poultry if put in the chickens' drinking water, and only costs $10.00 per gallon. Frequently he poses as an expert judge of poultry and takes in "dues" for his "medicine."

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture have carried out extensive experiments which confirm the fact that internal remedies do not kill external parasites, so poultry raisers are warned to have nothing to do with this fakir.

GOOD FRIDAY OBSERVANCE

The annual observance of the Crucifixion of our Lord, Good Friday, we call it, is at hand. The three hours from noon to 3:00 p. m., represent the supreme sacrifice of the ages. That we as a city may observe this brief period, I suggest that as has been the custom heretofore, all places of business be closed so far as possible from 12 m. to 3 p. m. on that day.

Wells D. Butterfield, Mayor.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

The spring session of the board of supervisors convened at Pontiac Tuesday with four additional members from the newly incorporated city of Ferndale. Alfred Gale of Watertown was elected chairman by a unanimous vote.

Willis M. Brewer, chairman of the board of auditors reported that progress on all projects, including the tuberculosis sanatorium, the county cement block plant, the county jail and other improvements, is satisfactory. He advocated an extensive campaign of county advertising, inasmuch as the tourist season is approaching, recommending that a special committee from the board work in conjunction with the Oakland Auto club.

THE LADDER OF LIFE

M. Marie Walling

Step by step, up the ladder of life
Silently we go;
What lies ahead in the great beyond
Little of that we know.

Some steps may not be easy to climb,
But steep though they may be,
Look for success, it lies ahead,
Farther than you can see.

Others are scaling the ladder of life,
Plodding there day by day;
But just as you, they are looking ahead,
And climbing the same old way.

A LITTLE TALK ON "THRIFT"

It is unfortunate that the word "thrift" brings to the minds of money saved and deposited in a bank.

We do not realize enough that the great buildings we see all about us in our cities are the products of thrift. The same is true of our railroads, our highways and the magnificent public improvements that greet us everywhere.

It is through the savings of the people fundamentally that capital is acquired and upon this foundation is erected the vast structure of business credit.

If anyone is inclined to doubt this, let him explain how progress can continue with the basic element of popular accumulation eliminated.

The material upbuilding now going on in this country is of such great proportion that it would seem that there must be some mysterious and magic influence at work somewhere. But there is no magic about it. What we see is the composite savings of millions of men and women who, little by little, have been getting further ahead each day.

In the success of a business and in the success of an individual the same simple rule holds good. Through a broad, constructive type of thrift a little progress is made each day, and, in the course of years, we behold a result which seems truly marvelous.

Do not be dissatisfied in the saving of small amounts of money; in the conservation of small measures of time; in the accumulation of knowledge bit by bit; in the development of character and ability through slow processes.

Since the world began it has ever been true that real greatness is of slow growth—S. W. Straus, President American Society for Thrift.

BORER QUARANTINES BAR CORN SHIPMENTS

Shipment of shelled corn from the corn borer quarantined area to points outside is prohibited by state and federal regulations, unless the consignment is accompanied by a certificate of inspection, according to advice being sent out by the Michigan department of agriculture. Corn on the cob will not be certified for shipment.

Application for inspection should be made to C. O. Larabee 120 East Sibley street, Howell; or to the State Department of Agriculture, at Lansing. Transportation agencies have been advised of the embargo and will not accept corn for shipment unless it has been certified.

Shipments of shelled corn very often contain pieces of cobs and other corn remnants within which the borer spends the winter and early spring. After May 1, the borer moths emerge. Such a shipment of corn, if permitted, would result in an infection in a virgin territory.

Farmers who have seed for sale destined to points outside the quarantined area are warned by the department not to include ears of corn in the package. This is often done to show the buyer the type of seed to be expected from the seed corn, and if found in the package, will result in its rejection.

DISMISS CHARGES AGAINST CONGRESSMAN HUDSON

A Detroit Free Press Washington correspondent says: The postoffice department has dismissed the complaint against Representative Grant M. Hudson of the sixth Michigan congressional district, that he had been using his congressional franking privilege to distribute dry propaganda through the mails illegally.

The charges were brought by the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment and other friends, after a Michigan congressional district, that he had been using his congressional franking privilege to distribute dry propaganda through the mails illegally.

Hudson should not be made to pay postage on the dry literature, because it was a part of the record of the alcoholic liquor traffic committee of which Hudson is chairman.

Samuel Locke is on the sick list.

OPEN SEASON WITH A BANG

Snappy Ball Game With Band Music and Parade Is On the Program

The baseball season for 1927 at the Detroit House of Correction farm will open Sunday, May 1, with a bang. For the initial game, the De-Ho-Co team, representing the Farm institution and always a fast aggregation of players, will be opposed by the nine that represents the Detroit League of Municipal Employees, which, too, always has dished up a snappy article of ball.

The advance sales assure a record crowd for an opening game on the De-Ho-Co grounds, where the grand stand capacity has been more than trebled to take care of the great increase there has been yearly in the number of followers of the institution team. Additional bleachers have been installed, also, and a seat for everyone in the big crowd is assured.

In their first meeting in 1926, Stevanowski opposed Rowland who was on the pitching mound for the De-Ho-Co, and the Municipal representatives won the opener. Added interest attaches to the return meeting on May 1, as these two hurlers again will be opposed. Stevanowski is said to be equally as fast as last year, while Rowland is reported to be a greatly improved pitcher, so an exciting contest may be looked for as the teams battle for the first blood of the season.

It is expected that many notables will be in attendance. Among these will be Gov. Fred Green and Mayor John W. Smith of Detroit. There will be a flag raising and a parade of ex-service men before the game as added attractions to make it a gala day on the De-Ho-Co diamond, pronounced by Ty Cobb superior to many diamonds in the big leagues.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Detroit Police Department Band, one of the finest organizations of its kind in the country.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Miss Mildred Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graham, narrowly escaped serious injury and perhaps death when she fell under a team of horses at their farm home Tuesday.

This being the vacation week Miss Graham thought it great fun to drive the team for her father who was cleaning up his corn field to fight the corn borer. The seat on the wagon tipped and participated the young lady under the horses heels. Miss Graham is recovering from the shock and a few bruises.
