'What are you doing New Year's Eve?'

FIRST NIGHT/BIRMINGHAM '94

presented by
The Cultural Council of Birmingham/Bloomfield

New Year's Eve celebration kicks off

Welcome to the fourth annual First Night/Birmingham celebration! This festival of the arts is a wonderful way to welcome the New Year, surrounded by family, friends, and neighbors in an alcohol-free environment.

Our First Night/Birmingham celebration is a culmination of a year's planning and hard work. Hundreds of volunteers and generous donors have put together an exciting, fun-filled evening of live performances. We're glad you are here to share it with us. We would like to extend our most sincere thanks to the many who make this event possible, especially our major sponsors - Bloomfield Community Television, Margo & Morry Cohen, D'Arcy Mastus Benton & Bowles, Ford Motor Company, Kelly Services, Kids Kab, Maplegrove Centers/Henry Ford Health System, Michigan Council for the Arts, Motorola, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, SelectCare, Target Stores, The Community House of Birmingham, The Junior League of Birmingham, The Kroger Company, The Lyon Foundation, Inc., WJBK TV-2, WJOL, WLTT.

All communications have been facilitated by Motorola. And the Junior League of Birmingham has graciously made possible all First Night children's activities.

A very hearty thank you to those behind-the-scenes heroes, the Birmingham Fire and Police and Public Service departments. Without their help we could not have provided a fun and safe environment for First Night these past four years.

May this New Year's be the best you can imagine.

With best wishes,
Charlotte Birch, Co-chair
Jim Casey, Co-chair
