GULLEN REMAINS IN FARMINGTON

DETROIT WAS AFTER OUR POPULAR PREACHER

Offered Special Inducements to Go to the City but Remains Loyal to the Village

It was with great satisfaction that Farmington people learned early in the week that Rev. Geo. E. Gullen has been returned here by conference for another year. It was not unexpected for it was the wish of practically every member of the Methodist church that the young man might be continued in the work that he has so well and successfully carried on since he has been located here.

It is learned that the presiding elder of the district had determined to send Mr. Gullen to Detroit, as pastor of a new church just being built on West Grand Boulevard, and which is to be dedicated in November. The membership comprises many wealthy citizens of the city and they united in offering special inducements in order to secure the services of the Farmington man, but he steadfastly declined the alluring propositions as he prefers to remain in Farmington for a while longer.

After failing to secure the consent of Mr. Gullen to go to the city the presiding elder turned over a big bunch of letters, telegrams, petitions, etc., that he had received from Farmington asking for Mr. Gullen's return and advised the young minister to take them home and make a bonfire and invite his staunch friends to join in a war dance.

By his liberal and generous treatment of all classes and his energetic activities in all things that tend for the betterment of the people, outside as well as in the church, he has endeared himself to the whole community.

He has exerted a wonderful influence for a higher standard of life among the young people by entering into their sports and pastimes and by his presence and assistance has helped to shape their habits and to guide them away from influences that demoralize and destroy the youth.

His sermons are broad and charitable, far away from the old-fashioned dogmatic style of the past, and show deep thought and an earnest desire to do real practical good to his fellowmen. The future for this young man looks bright to his friends.

APPLES BEING SHIPPED

Large Quantity of Fine Fruit Being Marketed in Farmington

Many thousands of bushels of apples are being shipped from Farmington this fall and the quality is said to be the best for years.

Superintendent Goodrich, who is a shipper of considerable prominence and who has been engaged in the business for many years, declares that he never saw as fine fruit. He had a car of Northern Spys ready for shipment this week that were extra nice, large and richly colored. This is early for that variety.

As the farmers learn to know the value of the apple crop they are inclined to take better care of their orchards with the result that the fruit is of a much better grade.

THE LORD'S SUPPER

Will be Administered Sunday Morning by M. E. Pastor

M. E. services Oct 1: Morning sermon topic, "They were all of one accord." After the sermon the Lord's supper will be administered by the pastor. Any who have children they would like baptized may have this rite performed at this service if they notify the pastor some time during the week. If there are any who wish to unite with this society if they will also kindly notify the pastor they will be gladly received at this service. Evening sermon topic, "Homesick!"

Universalist Services on Sunday

"Modern American Universalism" is the subject on which Dr. Lee S. McClester of the Church of Our Father, Detroit, will preach Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Universalist church at Farmington at 3:00 p. m.

Services at the Baptist Church

Service at Farmington Baptist church Oct. 1st will begin at 10:30. B. J. Klump will speak subject, "Two Hours." All who are not attending any other church are cordially invited. W. E. Prouse will sing.

This is Blumber Land.

Here is a story about the soothing quality of Flatbush str. says the Brooklyn Eagle. Newcomers to Flatbush notice first of all that they don't seem able to get sleep enough. At first they have an idea that perhaps it's the malaria, but it is only the heavy sea air which induces slumber. A new resident in Flatbush asked some friends of his in the district if this experience was a common one. "Oh, yes," was the reply, "that is the case with everybody who moves here. A certain woman who lives not far from Eighteenth avenue started to make three beds one morning at nine o'clock. At seven o'clock that night she had not yet made the third. The beds looked so inviting and I was so tired," she explained, "that whenever I came to one I lay down and slept on it."

THE HOME PAPER

Some Sensible Words from an Appreciative Reader

How many of us stop to think what the words "home paper" mean to the majority of the residents of a small town or village, and yet how slightly it will be spoken of. "Daily Torture," "Soap Wrapper," "Gimlet," etc., are only a few of the titles thrust upon the home paper, and again, those same people who bestow these loving titles upon the paper are the first to grab the paper upon its arrival in the home.

Now, if you are not satisfied with the home paper, why not help to improve it. Surely you don't expect the editor to do it all. They usually have but one pair of eyes, ears, hands, etc., and need the hearty co-operation of the people. "Why is it that the paper isn't better," someone asks. Because the citizens in general do not take the interest in it which they ought.

The American people as a rule are a very newsy bunch and news is what makes the home paper. The advertisements are there for your personal use, but news, news, is what the people want. We all like to read the news that other people write; then why not send in our news for other people to enjoy, and if everyone would jot down their little news items and send them in each week the home paper would soon have to unfold it leaves and become perhaps a "Blooming Rose" instead of a "Soap Wrapper."

Again he said, the Journal, Evening News, or any of the large daily papers can never take the place of the home paper. One said, "I cannot afford both so I discontinued the home paper."

However, one is not satisfied because the village news is in that paper be it ever so small. This applies to every home paper. Do not look at a correspondent as though they were something to be feared, but rather impart your news to them and help boom your home paper.

THEY MISSED THE FAIR

However, they Got Married and Visited Niagara Falls, Instead

Last Saturday Earl Wolfe, son R. E. Wolfe, one of the prosperous farmers of Livonia township, and Miss Lillian, only child of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phelps of Farmington, started for the state fair. They returned home as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wolfe after having visited a Windsor parson in company with Earl Gullen and Lillian Gildemeister. After the ceremony the young couple took a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls before returning home. The groom is one of the promising young men of the community and was attending the Farmington high school, being a member of the senior class, while the bride was one of the popular young ladies of the village and was attending school at Pontiac. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Collars of Milk.

Sounds queer, doesn't it? But somebody over in Europe thought of a way to utilize goat's milk, and these collars are the result. They are said to be quite as useful as the collars of celluloid. In addition, they are less bright in finish, so that they are in this way somewhat of an improvement over the old celluloid collar.

The way is separated from the curds and the curds are then put through a process which results in this substance resembling celluloid.

Walters, coachmen, tradesmen and other folk on the other side of the Atlantic use them extensively.

MEDICINE APT TO BE NEEDED

should always be kept on hand for emergencies. No house should be without a medicine cabinet, which should be well stocked with OUR HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES, PLASTERS, ANTISEPTIC COTTON, ETC.

We shall be glad to make you up a list of things you ought to have, and to supply them. A remedy when needed will save much suffering and much expense.

T. H. MCGEE, DRUGGIST FARMINGTON

Do you wish to learn all about banking and banking terms? We will be glad to explain anything you do not understand, but the very best educator is a bank account itself. Practically all business men have learned what they know of money matters by the actual handling of money in business. Even a small account is an educator, if you cannot afford a large one. With an account with us you thus kill two birds with one stone—keep your money safe and learn the laws of finance.
