ELECTROCHEF

Ten years from now, your spotless, gleaming Electrochef will look as sparkling and attractive as it does today. Using electric heat—as clean as sunlight—it will not soot from smoke or soot and it is ruggedly built to last a lifetime. Electrochef is a stove that you can really keep clean—there are no cracks or crevices to collect dirt. Even the inside of the oven is made of gleaming metal with rounded edges and corners that may be easily washed. Outside, gleaming porcelain surfaces can be quickly wiped with a damp cloth, and the highly polished chrome plate reflectors on the cooking table should be placed right in the dishpan for washing. Once you know the superiority of Electrochef electric cooking, you will wonder how you ever got along without it! See the Electrochef today at your nearest Detroit Edison office.
