

Making Of Big Casks To Begin At The Winery

Pouring Of Concrete Forms Will Start; Expect To Press By December 1

After weeks of preliminary work, residents of this section will soon be able to see at the new winery at Farmington Junction, the actual outlines of what the interior of the plant will look like when all is finished. Pouring of concrete for the glass-lined casks is to start almost immediately, with the floors and foundations completed.

So rapidly is the work to be pushed that pressing of grapes is to start December 1, it is stated. Grapes are now in storage ready for pressing, according to company officials.

According to statements Thursday, work will be done day and night if necessary to hasten completion of the plant.

Will Have 32 Casks Thirty-two of the huge casks will be located in the west portion of the old D. U. R. building, which is rapidly taking on a new appearance. The casks will hold 12,000 gallons each, a total of 384,000 gallons.

Bricking-up of windows on the west side continues, and work has begun on the bricking-in of the arched doorways in front. Some space will be left in the windows, but the wide doorways will be closed up entirely.

FIRST OF OPEN FORUM MEETINGS NEXT WEDNESDAY

Announcement is made this week of the date of the first open forum meeting to be held in Farmington, under the auspices of the Economic Discussion Group. The initial meeting of the series will be held this winter, and the next Tuesday evening, November 14, at the Universalist Church on Warner avenue.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who care to attend and to take part in a discussion. Admission will be free, and there will be no collection, expenses being borne by members of the discussion group. The speaker of the evening, Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, will talk on "Your Savings and the Banks," and general discussion and question period will follow.

The meeting will begin at 8:00 p. m. The discussion group plans to bring interesting speakers to Farmington for the meetings, but emphasizes that it does not need speakers or accept responsibility for the opinions expressed.

Farmington Head Tax Census Nearly Done

Mrs. Rena Lamb, census-taker in Farmington City for the head tax which is to furnish money for old age pensions, has particularly completed tabulation of the city population.

Mrs. Lamb reported meeting with a cordial response throughout the city, and expresses her appreciation of the co-operation she has received. Only one resident refused to sign the blanks, she reports.

Work in Farmington Township is being carried on by Mrs. Ellen Goers.

Red Cross Sends National Speaker To Farmington

Representative Of Headquarters Coming On Friday Afternoon

Farmington's annual Red Cross drive will receive unusual impetus this year, with announcement Thursday that a representative of the national organization is coming to give the annual roll call a flying start.

Mrs. Virginia Lee Eastham of the National Red Cross will be at the High School Friday afternoon at 2:30 to speak to workers who are to put on the Red Cross membership roll call.

In Farmington, as throughout the country, the annual roll call will take place next Wednesday, Thursday, November 15 and 16. A house-to-house canvass will be made in both Farmington City and Township.

Give Much Aid Both national and local relief are given by the Red Cross. Since May 1 in Farmington city and school district, 371 garments have been given out. Many sacks of flour have been distributed since May 1. Much help has been given in the Township, practically all the welfare clothing except shoes being supplied by the Red Cross.

Farmington Township ranks among the first in the county in clothing and flour distributed, it is reported.

Memberships in the Red Cross are $1.00. Anyone wishing to do so may give less than $1.00 amount, however small, is welcomed.

MAYOR ISSUES A PROCLAMATION ON RED CROSS DRIVE

Mayor Howard Warner, one of the first residents of Farmington to enroll this year as a member of the American Red Cross, today issued a proclamation, in which he appealed to the local citizenship to support the national organization in the annual Roll Call which opens November 11.

"As Mayor of the City of Farmington I deem it my duty and privilege to call public attention to the annual membership campaign of the American Red Cross, which is to be conducted here between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, November 11 to 24.

"The Red Cross universally recognized as the greatest and most noble of all organizations, is solely dependent upon individual backing. Lacking this support the organization would be unable to carry on its noble work of relieving suffering among war victims, in the health field, first aid, life saving, and its numerous other tasks.

"Every local citizen can aid in this cause by contributing to the community challenge in full confidence that every dollar contributed to this cause will be multiplied in usefulness."

Red Cross Meeting Held At Walled Lake

Walled Lake became the center of a Red Cross meeting when Mrs. Virginia Lee Eastham, National Red Cross Director of St. Louis met with Mrs. Ira Carnes and her staff of workers. Mr. Boyer, a Pontiac worker, was also present.

The staff assisting Mrs. Carnes in collecting funds, distributing garments to be made and in distributing ready-made garments to the needy are Mrs. E. V. Mercer, Mrs. M. Rhodes, Mrs. Earl, Paul, Mrs. Frank Carrier, Miss Louise Paddock, Miss Lucile Malcome, Mrs. William Benstein and Mrs. Mae Oldenburg.

Some interesting facts for this section were presented concerning Oakland County Red Cross work. They are Commerce township has received 1,211 garments and a quantity of flour.

Annual Fall Cleanup To Be Held Next Week

Annual Fall Cleanup days in Farmington will take place next week, on Tuesday, November 14, and Wednesday, November 15. On those days residents are urged to place all rubbish and other articles not wanted at the side of the roads, and all will be collected by city trucks. Officials will be on hand to help improve the appearance of the town by making for the cleanup days a genuine and sincere effort to beautify the city.

Auto Skids Off Highway, Livonia Resident Killed

icy roads have taken their first toll of the season, in the death of a Livonia Township man who was instantly killed Wednesday evening on Seven Mile Road.

Julius Wyszowski, 62, was the victim. The car in which he was riding on Seven Mile Road a half mile east of Farmington Road skidded, left the pavement and turned over, about seven o'clock.

Wyszowski was dead when picked up. Vincent Jogatka, who was driving, was unhurt. They were driving eastward on Seven Mile and Inkster Roads, is survived by his wife and two children. Jogatka has a wife and three children.

The victim's body was removed to the Wayne County morgue, pro tempore to burial.

Wyszowski had lived in Livonia Township for a number of years. He had worked various times for the Township on road jobs and other work.

CLARENCEVILLE MAN GETS PRISON FOR HORSE THEFT

Charles Desser, 20, of Clarenceville, who, possesses the doubtful distinction of being the first convicted horse-thief in this section in many, many years, perhaps decades, is cooling his heels in Jackson prison. He has begun serving a one-to-five-years sentence.

Dresser, who lives at Semble and 3-Mile Roads, stole a light-colored American Indian Shaw Brog, and sold it to George Simmons of Southfield Township. He was arrested in Detroit. The horses were returned.

Welfare System To Undergo Change Soon

Farmington Township and City welfare activities will be transferred to the County system after the end of next week, it is announced. Next week-end will mark the last of the local issuance of orders, and the first county order will be given out the following week.

May Be Taken The county orders will be good at any NRA store at which the recipient desires to trade. The new system will be financed largely by the federal government, and more liberal orders are indicated for indigents.

A district supervisor will have charge of half a dozen townships and two municipalities in this part of the county with investigators under him in each unit.

Monk Watson And His Band At The Redford

Residents of this vicinity will have a rare opportunity this week-end to hear a noted group of musicians, "Monk" Watson and his famous band, when they come to the Redford Theater for a few days' stay. Watson and his musicians are "Detroit's own," and are highly popular.

They will be at the Redford Friday and Saturday of this week.

Northville Legion To Give Armistice Day Party

An Armistice Day Dance will be held Saturday at Meadowbrook Inn on 10 Mile Road just west of Grand River by Lloyd H. Green Post, American Legion, of Northville. One of the best evenings of fun and frolic ever held in this section is promised.

First Forum Speaker

Walter M. Nelson, Detroit attorney, will speak next Tuesday night at the first Farmington open forum, at Universalist Church.

Clarenceville Men's Hurts Fatal

Drove On Wrong Side, Caused Accident

Any action that might have been contemplated against W. L. Rogers of Eight Mile Road, Clarenceville, for driving on the wrong side of Grand River Road, will be abandoned now. Rogers, 64 years old, has paid a higher penalty than the law could exact—he died Monday morning in Receiving Hospital at Redford.

Two weeks ago, on October 26, Rogers drove east on the north half of Grand River Road, instead of the south half, just east of Middlebelt road. His car collided with a westbound machine driven by Mrs. Ralph Tenney of Okemos. Both cars were demolished, and Rogers and a little girl with Mrs. Tenney were seriously hurt.

The girl recovered, but Rogers became steadily worse, until his death Monday.

He is survived only by his wife, who has been staying in Detroit. The couple came here a little over a year ago from Lenawee County, and formerly lived in the south.

First Performance Of "Henry's Wedding" Given

A large audience filled Farmington Town Hall Wednesday evening for the performance of "Henry's Wedding," that presented 125 Farmington men and women in odd costumes and character parts. The presentations varied from "brethren and sisters of the mythic shrine" to Daisy Bell, the pantomime girl, and the Flapper of 1890.

Wednesday night's show was the first of the two scheduled. Music was furnished by the Farmington Community Band.

The play was presented for the benefit of the high school athletic association.

Davis Compensation Case To Be Appealed

Though a decision has been rendered in favor of William Davis in his claim for compensation for injuries suffered while working for Farmington City, the fight is not finished and will be carried on. Notice was received Wednesday that the insurance company underwriting the City has decided to appeal the verdict of S. S. Ostrow, deputy labor commissioner.

Mr. Ostrow after hearing, denied the petition of the company for relief from further payment, after partial payment had been made.

URGES WORKS HASTE

Congressman George A. Dondero, 17th Michigan District, left Tuesday for Washington, D. C. for the express purpose of inquiring into the status of the various Michigan projects and urging immediate action on the part of the Public Works Administration to relieve the unemployment situation.

The North Farmington Auxiliary will have a church dinner at the Farmington M. E. Church, November 21st. Serving to start at 12:15 p. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

City Takes Lead In Co-ordinating All Charity Work

Central Committee To Be Organized For Winter's Activities

For the second time in recent years, an effort is under way to centralize and co-ordinate all charitable activities in Farmington and vicinity. Thoroughness in the distribution of assistance and avoidance of duplication are chief aims of the movement, which had its start Monday evening.

At the City Commission meeting, the Commission approved a plan, suggested by Emory Hutton, for setting up a community-wide organization for charitable work. City Clerk Power was authorized to summon representatives of various organizations and churches in the community to form a committee which will be in charge.

Each organization will designate a member to represent it on the committee. Charitable efforts will be cleared through this committee, thus avoiding any overlapping.

Several years ago women of the community took the initiative in an effort to centralize charity, and considerable good resulted. The effort this year is believed to hold even more promise, starting as it does with the official approval of City's governing body.

In the formation of the committee is seen prospects for renewal of the school lunches program carried on last year but jeopardized this year with the recent disbanding of the P. T. A.

Mr. Power will designate the date for the first meeting shortly, by mail to each organization. Among groups to be asked to send representatives are:

- Methodist Church, Baptist Church, Evangelical Church, Universalist Church, W. C. T. U., Sorrows Church, City Commission, High School Faculty, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, Eastern Star, Masonic Lodge, Elks Club, G. A. R. Club, Business Woman's Club, and the Red Cross.

Need Special Effort To Save Fire Service

Livonia Township officers are called on to make a special effort to save the fire protection provided by Farmington City's volunteers. Due to financial conditions, the Township has fallen behind in its fire-club bills, and the City Commission decided Monday night that it would be unable to continue answering calls unless at least half the account was paid, especially in view of the fact that the City truck is not well adapted to country work and is costly to drive into the country.

Commissioner Oldenburg and Livonia officials held a friendly conference on the situation recently, in an effort to work out a solution.

China To Be Subject At Woman's Club

The next meeting of the Farmington Woman's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Viola Gildmeister, November 15. Papers on "Problems Confronting China" will be presented.

The last club meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Nellie Dickerson on November 1. Rep. Watkins of Waterford, talked on the subject "Problems facing a Legislator." Everyone who heard him will be more careful in voting in the next elections.
