Confidence

Is one of those intangibles so vital to a service such as ours.

Since establishing our funeral home we have, through a constantly improving service, built a confidence that we deeply appreciate, and which we shall ever strive to increase.

FLOODS IN ENGLAND

WINDSOR, ENGLAND — SOUNDPHOTO — From the upper floors of their homes these flood victims watch one of their number being taken to dry land in a roustabout. Having suffered trial by fire during the war, they take nature's excesses in stride. They cannot do any cooking because their kitchens are on the floors below with water covering them to a depth of many feet. However, the news that flood waters are gradually subsiding has brought a measure of cheer to them as they girt it out and look on the wet world from their windows.
