A Good Lesson . . .

In citizenship was handed out by Judge John J. Schulte a few days ago when a violator was fined $10 and court costs for dumping rubbish along the side of the road.

Fortunately this violator was not a resident of the Farmington community, but this fact takes nothing away from the lesson! A great many complaints have been registered with the Township and The Enterprise over this dumping problem.

Certainly our roads and open fields are not intended for dumping grounds and the sooner we can make the point understood to everyone the better.

Police and Court authorities are unable to do much unless they have the cooperation of the people. Offenders must be reported to police, and charges brought for court action.

Hunting For New Words . . .

can be like looking for a needle in a haystack, especially when you want to find a different way of telling an old but very vital story.

It sounds very remote, doesn't it, as you sit in your comfortable living room? But it's very real—it is happening every day to Americans, your countrymen and mine.

You won't have to hunt for new words if you give a pint of blood April 14 or 15. Your action will speak for itself.

Another Example . . .

of the value of a civilian defense organization in peacetime was exemplified last week in Detroit when a 24-hour patrol was set up in the flood threatened southeastern section of the city.

The patrol was made up of auxiliary policemen recruited under the civil defense program. They are not only performing a valuable service to the community, but are relieving regular policemen for standard duties.

We could—if there was an organization trained and equipped to meet the situation. Farmington can't have that kind of an organization unless the people get behind it and give civil defense officials the kind of spirit and cooperation it takes to make any community program a success.

David Gives Lesson With His Humility And Reverent Acts
WHEN news reached England of the Battle of Saratoga in the American Revolutionary War with the defeat and surrender of General Burgoyne, someone remarked to the economist, Adam Smith, and the eminent author of "The Wealth of Nations" replied, "There is a great deal of doom in a nation."

By GENE ALLEMAN
When the legislative appropriations committee labored and brought forth a $333 million budget for next year — $32 million more than the present income will produce — the lawmakers settled first for olive battle with the almighty dollar.

THE WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round
By DREW PEARSON
MORRIS NEARLY QUILTS
The White House has hushed it up, but clean-up man Newbold Morris came within a whisker the other day of packing his bags and going home.

With a few minutes, however, word of Morris's surprise decision was flashed to the White House, and presidential aide Charlie Murphy was rushed to Morris's office.

While these relatively small tax bills — which are so very confusing and super-complicated — are knocking around the two houses, the push for a constitutional convention continues.

Looking Back Through The Enterprise Files

Wells D. Butterfield was re-elected mayor of Farmington Monday as four hundred voters went to the polls. Identified defeated his opponent, Fred L. Cook, 298 to 125. Other officials elected were: Commissioners: Fred Staman with 209 votes; Carl Hoyle with 307 and Harrison Johnson with 251; Clerk, Nathan Power with 277; Treasurer, Himan Nichols with 256; Assessor, Arthur Lamb with 285; Justice of the Peace, John J. Schulte, Jr., 106; and the unexpired term, Ernest Flak with 192.

Twenty-nine from Farmington, Farmington Township and Novi were among the group of draftees sent to Fort Custer's recruit reception center the first part of the month. They are Allard Wygant, Robert H. Paul, Louis A. Beach, John James Lindsay, Clarence H. Mansel, Francis G. Hoffman and A. Paul Claude E. Atkinson. Carl R. Hognanson, John B. Diggs, William O. Mitchell, William H. Pauline, Robert J. Nolan, Horace H. Jones, Dale E. Butler, James M. McDonald, Dr. H. R. Houghton, William W. Schuklin, Oliver Thompson, William Rozenboom and two men from Novi, Hober C. Kent and Orville M. Whittington.

Current tax rates are six bills which would plug leaks in the state's financial tank. They would: 1. Put insurance companies on the same tax basis as stock companies (five mill per dollar of assets) to net the state another $400,000.

3. Boost corporation franchise fees from 3 1/2 to four mills and broaden the franchise base to include railroads, interurban companies to bring the state $10 million more.

4. Change the name of the three per cent sales tax on liquor to a "liquor handling charge" so it can be shifted from local governments to the state's general fund. This would net Michigan $1 million the first year and $2.5 million each year thereafter.

5. Increase intangible tax on banks per cut relates to the cities from $11 million to $8 million, bringing $6.5 million into state coffers. Intangible tax now brings in $13 million.

6. Put a three per cent tax on used cars and cut off $3 million now diverted to school, which would bring in another $12 million.

"Before I get through," says Sen. Higgins, "we'll have taken steps to bring down the deficit."

While these relatively small tax bills — which are so very confusing and super-complicated — are knocking around the two houses, the push for a constitutional convention continues.

The legislature is determined to out the restricting laws which have, year after year, been added to our books and which have made a patchwork of our constitution.

First came the 15 mill tax limitation which tied down local governmental units so they couldn't raise enough money to meet increasing costs.

Then a constitutional amendment put all gasoline and car insurance enough money to meet increasing costs.
